

2017 Washington Model Organization of American States General Assembly

Final Packet

Third Committee

PROMOTING THE DEVELOPMENT OF HUMAN POTENTIAL BY ADVANCING INCLUSIVE EDUCATION FOR VISUALLY IMPAIRED STUDENTS

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Grenada

Topic No. 3 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 34(f) of the Charter of the Organization of American States (OAS), which promotes the “expansion of educational opportunities for all”;

Article 16 of the Inter-American Democratic Charter, which declares that “education is key to strengthening democratic institutions, promoting the development of human potential, and alleviating poverty and fostering greater understanding among our peoples”;

AFFIRMING:

Article 26(1) of the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights, which states that “everyone has the right to education,” and Article 26(2), which asserts that “education shall be directed to the full development of the human personality and to the strengthening of respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms”;

RECALLING:

AG/DEC. 50 (XXXVI-O/06), Declaration on the Decade of the Americas for the Rights and Dignity of Persons with Disabilities, which affirms “the need to adopt urgent hemisphere-wide and/or regional measures and strategies to promote the recognition and exercise of all basic human rights, including civil and political as well as economic, social, and cultural rights, as well as the fundamental freedoms, of persons with disabilities”;

AG/RES. 2230 (XXXVI-O/06), Program of Action for the Declaration on the Decade of the Americas for Persons with Disabilities, which vows to “incorporate children and young people with special educational needs into the mainstream educational system,” and to “promote ongoing, specialized training, both on-site and through distance learning arrangements, of teachers at all educational levels to encourage the development of inclusion policies”;

CONCERNED BY:

Statistics reported by the Dominican Republic’s National Council on Disability, indicating that over 90 million people in Latin America have a disability;

The World Bank “Disability and Inclusive Development in Latin America and the Caribbean” report, which indicates that “only between 20% and 30% of children with disabilities in Latin America and the Caribbean attend school”; that “poor attendance by disabled children derives from severe lack of [...] teacher training, [...] learning materials, and access to school infrastructure”; and that “in addition to these visible barriers, impediments to quality inclusive education also come from attitudinal barriers”; and

BEARING IN MIND:

That the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) stated that

“the democratic and human rights-based intent of inclusive education is...represented in the recognition of the need to work towards 'schools for all' - institutions which include everybody, celebrate differences, support learning, and respond to individual needs,”

RESOLVES:

1. To commend the OAS and member states for adopting measures to promote the recognition and exercise of the human rights of people with disabilities.
2. To call upon the OAS to implement a special education training program that will focus on preparing teachers to integrate visually impaired students into the classroom in order to improve their attendance and quality of education.
3. To propose that the training program be designed by the OAS Department of Social Inclusion (DSI) and be structured as follows:
 - a. The program will be aimed at public secondary school teachers from low-income areas in Latin America and the Caribbean.
 - b. Training sessions will take place in schools selected by each participating member state's government.
 - c. Participating schools will select groups of teachers to take part in the program.
 - d. The curriculum for the program will train participating teachers in how to adjust the learning environment to meet visually impaired students' needs; how to provide a welcoming and supportive classroom climate for visually impaired students; and how to teach other students to help, and develop caring attitudes towards, students with disabilities.
 - e. Training sessions will last two months, and will be held during summer break.
4. To suggest that the training program be delivered by experts in the field of disability education, and that:
 - a. The DSI will develop an application process to select the trainers.
 - b. Trainers must have demonstrated expertise in the education of students with disabilities, must be from one of the OAS member states, and must speak Spanish, English, Portuguese or French, according to each nation's official language.
5. To begin the training program in 2018, and complete it by 2025.
6. To track program results by stipulating that participating member states send bi-annual reports to the DSI, measuring the performance of visually impaired students in schools whose teachers took part in the training program.

EMPOWERING WOMEN TO ERADICATE POVERTY

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Colombia

Topic No. 2 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

The goal of Article 2 (g) of the Organization of American States (OAS) Charter to "eradicate extreme poverty";

Article 45 (a) of the OAS Charter which states that "All human beings, without distinction as to race, sex, nationality, creed, or social condition, have a right to material well-being and to their spiritual development, under circumstances of liberty, dignity of opportunity, and economic security";

Article 43(b) of the OAS which asserts that "Work is a right and social duty, it gives dignity to the one who performs it, and it should be performed under conditions, including a system of fair wages, that ensure life, health, and a decent standard of living for the worker and his family, both during his working years and in his old age, or when any circumstances deprives him of the possibility of working";

That the OAS established the Protocol to the American Convention of Human Rights in the Area of Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, "Protocol of San Salvador," which encourages compensation for all workers to decent living conditions and fair wages;

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

That the UN established the United Nations Population Fund (UNPF) as a way to "[expand] the possibilities for women and young people to lead healthy and productive lives";

That the Inter-American Development Banks study on "Childcare and Women's Labor Participation: Evidence for Latin America and the Caribbean" states that "Reliable and affordable non-parental childcare is intimately related to female participation and other outcomes in the labor market given the conflicting demand for women's time on both, work and care activities"; and

RECOGNIZING:

That women are the most unrepresented workers in the hemisphere who still do not have the same equal opportunity as men and earn only 77.3 percent of every man's salary regardless of education;

That unplanned births can negatively affect the economic prospects for all women, especially those who have not completed their education;

That 73 percent of the region encourages family planning as of 2015,

RESOLVES:

1. To encourage member states to develop policies to redress the gender disparity in wages.

2. To encourage member states to strengthen microfinance loan programs and small business development grants while seeking assistance from the IADB's Multilateral Investment Fund and IGO's such as the Women's Global Empowerment Fund.
3. To encourage member states to apply to the United Nations Children's Fund for funding to establish subsidized or free childcare programs.
4. To encourage member states to promote the establishment of women's centers to meet the needs of all women at every stage of their lives, particularly in underserved areas and seek financial assistance from the United Nations Population Fund to do so.

STRENGTHENING THE COMPETENCIES OF HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONALS IN THE HEMISPHERE

Third Committee Topic No. 1 of the Agenda Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of the Plurinational State of Bolivia

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 30 of the OAS Charter, stating that “the Member States, inspired by the principles of inter-American solidarity and cooperation, pledge themselves to a united effort to ensure international social justice in their relations and integral development for their peoples, as conditions essential to peace and security. Integral development encompasses the economic, social, educational, cultural, scientific, and technological fields through which the goals that each country sets for accomplishing it should be achieved”;

Article 33 of the Social Charter of the Americas, which highlights that “Integral development encompasses, inter alia, the economic, social, educational, cultural, scientific, technological, labour, health, and environmental fields, through which the goals that each country sets for accomplishing it should be achieved”;

Article 34 of the OAS Charter, which claims that “the Member States agree that equality of opportunity, the elimination of extreme poverty, equitable distribution of wealth and income and the full participation of their peoples in decisions relating to their own development are, among others, basic objectives of integral development. To achieve them, they likewise agree to devote their utmost efforts to accomplishing the following basic goals i) Protection of man's potential through the extension and application of modern medical science l) Urban conditions that offer the opportunity for a healthful, productive, and full life”;

CONSIDERING:

Article 1 of the Constitution of the World Health Organization, which emphasizes that: “The purpose of the World Health Organization will be to achieve the highest attainable standard of health for all peoples”; and

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

That the human being is the fundamental axis inside the functions of the government in all countries;

That the health system should be extended to all the inhabitants, the promotion of social and cultural equity should be related to the lifestyle and conditions inside the region,

RESOLVES:

1. To recognize the work done by multilateral organizations and Member States in the promotion of health to achieve sustainable development in human beings and in nations.
2. To recommend the creation of the Summit “Strengthening Health Systems in the Americas” for the inclusion and participation of all member countries of the OAS, based on the initiative of the World Health Organization for the Andean Parliament. For the realization of the Summit, the following aspects will be considered:

- a. The first Summit will be held in La Paz, Bolivia in April 7th, 2018.
 - b. The host country will be in charge of the finance of the Summit.
 - c. Member States are encouraged to nominate a host country for the next year Summit. ..
 - d. In the case that no Member State voluntarily chooses to be host country for the following year, Bolivia will host it again.
 - e. The Summit will be executed under the supervision of the Pan-American Health Organization.
3. The function of the Summit will be for all participant Member States to formulate an agenda focused on the current situation of medical personnel in each country's health system.
 - a. The principles of the Summit are interculturality, plurinationality and inclusion of all members of society, specifically indigenous groups, woman and children.
 - b. The Summit will focus on the achievement of quality, efficiency, innovation and inclusion of the healthcare systems in the region.
 4. To request voluntary support to the Organization of American States for the financing of programs to train medical personnel of the participant Member States such as; but not limited to, training, scholarships, exchange of new techniques and better practices.
 5. To encourage each Member State to disseminate a report of the Summit to their respective peoples.

THE CREATION OF MOBILE HEALTH UNITS TO BROADEN THE SCOPE OF PREVENTATIVE MEDICINE

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Panama

Topic No. 1 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

RECOGNIZING:

That over 30 million children in developing countries, including those in Latin America and the Caribbean, are not vaccinated either because the medicine is unavailable due to inadequate and inaccessible health services, or due to families lacking the education on the importance of immunization for children;

That yellow fever, which mostly affects Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, Panamá, Paraguay, Trinidad and Tobago, Peru, and Venezuela, is exceedingly avoidable with the YF-Vax;

That there are many diseases for which modern medicine possess a preventative vaccine, yet no treatment or cure for individuals that are infected;

That existing health care inequalities contribute to the spread of disease, and fueled by the rapidity of border crossings, these outbreaks can quickly and affect the world at large;

HAVING SEEN:

The Protocol of San Salvador, a multilateral treaty of the Charter of the Organization of the American States (OAS), which states in Article 10 that “Everyone shall have the right to health, understood to mean the enjoyment of the highest level of physical, mental and social well-being”;

Article 34 (i) of the Charter of the OAS, which insists on the “Protection of man's potential through the extension and application of modern medical science”; and

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

CD53.R14 Strategy for Universal Access to Health and Universal Health Coverage, that calls on Member States to maintain an open dialogue to support inclusion and progress toward the goals of universal access to health and universal health coverage, and to strive to guarantee “universal access to comprehensive, quality, progressively expanded health services that are consistent with health needs;”

CD53/5, Rev. 2 Strategy for Universal Access to Health and Universal Health Coverage Agenda Item 4.3, which observes that political commitments strengthening health systems via consolidation and integration of technology have contributed to monumental advances in health;

That segmentation and fragmentation of healthcare infrastructure has resulted in the lack of regulatory capacity and created inefficiency and inequity in patient care;

The need to strengthen and transform health care services to focus on patient needs and increasing the scope of care provided to all communities through integrated health services,

RESOLVES:

To extend gratitude to the OAS and the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) for their previous resolve in 2014 that first made strides towards universal health care.

1. To call on PAHO and the OAS to jointly create the task force, Organization of American Health Vehicles (OAHV), whose goal will be to operate mobile medical units that will provide access to vaccinations for geographically isolated and impoverished areas. OAHV will be overseen and authorized by PAHO, and with “isolated and impoverished” defined as:
 - a. Regions where spending on healthcare is below the regional average as indicated by OAHV in coordination with World Health Organization (WHO) data.
 - b. Regions having little to no access to healthcare facilities due to geographic parameters.
 - c. People unable to access healthcare due to lack of financial resources, which will be determined by OAHV with respect to national poverty rates.
2. To insist that the OAHV to create a fleet of mobile health vehicles capable of reaching citizens in isolated and impoverished areas to ensure equal access to vaccinations including natal and prenatal care to limit the spread of diseases to mother and child. The primary objective of these mobile health vehicles shall be to:
 - a. Generate the most significant impact by servicing areas deemed most in need of vaccinations by OAHV.
 - b. Increase access to vaccines for vaccine-preventable diseases and other maladies prevalent in the served geographic location.
3. To instruct the OAHV to:
 - a. To obtain said vehicles in the manner it deems best.
 - b. To equip said vehicles with vaccines, general first-aid supplies, sterilizing equipment, biohazard waste disposal, apparatuses to check vital signs, approved medicines, diagnostic devices, and a trained medical team and driver who have been vetted by OAHV.
 - c. To distribute said vehicles based on population needs as determined by the OAHV.
 - d. To keep said vehicles locked and securely stored when not in use, according to OAHV procedures to prevent theft.
4. To designate a “pilot program” and upon completion of the pilot, OAHV shall report data highlighting the effectiveness of the program to the OAS.

6. To call upon Member States to meet for a donation conference to reach out to PAHO, the World Health Organization (WHO), International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD), and other civil society groups to generate funds for these services and other costs that will be encountered.

GROW IT: POVERTY REDUCTION THROUGH IMPROVEMENT OF INFRASTRUCTURE

Third Committee

Topic No. 2 of the Agenda

Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of the Commonwealth of Dominica

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 26 of the Charter of the Organization of American States which establishes that: “The Member States agree to cooperate with one another, as far as their resources may permit and their laws may provide, in the broadest spirit of good neighborliness, in order to strengthen their economic structure, develop their agriculture and mining, promote their industry and increase their trade”;

Article 33 of the Organization of American States’ (OAS) Charter which declares that: “Development is a primary responsibility of each country and should constitute an integral and continuous process for the establishment of a more just economic and social order that will make possible and contribute to the fulfillment of the individual”;

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

CIDI/RES/66 (IV-O/99) “Support for Meetings and Activities in the Area of Sustainable Development and Environment”, reiterating that “Heads of State and Government instructed the OAS to continue to coordinate the fulfillment of the mandates of the Summit of the Americas on Sustainable Development”;

AG/RES. 2816(XLIV -O/14) “Advancing Hemispheric Initiatives on Integral Development”; that resolves, “To request SEDI to continue to promote partnerships that promote the development and use of more efficient, clean and renewable technologies in all sectors...”;

CONSIDERING:

That the World Bank supports the idea that, “Infrastructure plays a critical role in driving growth, competitiveness, job creation, poverty alleviation and ultimately in sustainability—both in decisions that limit emissions, that strengthen resilience and that address local environmental concerns. Conversely, inadequate infrastructure, particularly in developing countries, is a constraint on economic growth and a persistent challenge for governments”;

That the World Bank establishes that, “Agricultural development is one of the most powerful tools to end extreme poverty, boost shared prosperity and feed 9 billion people by 2050. Growth in the agriculture sector is about two to four times more effective in raising incomes among the poorest compared to other sectors. This is important for 78 percent of the world’s poor who live in rural areas and depend largely on farming to make a living”; and

OBSERVING WITH CONCERN:

The FAO investigation reporting that “On average, agriculture absorbs 22 percent of the total economic impact caused by natural hazards.” And that, “Over the past decade, about USD 4 billion has been spent on humanitarian assistance to the agriculture sector, averaging about USD 375 million annually”;

Charles Kenny's World Bank report stating that "Natural disasters have killed thousands of people in the space of a few minutes. Their after-effects can kill thousands more over subsequent weeks and years. They can have a huge cost in terms of damaged buildings and infrastructure",

RESOLVES:

1. To congratulate the countries of the Hemisphere for the goals that has been already achieved on the matter of the improvement on the population livelihood. And, to encourage further cooperation on the development and improvement on the matter.
2. To propose the implementation of the Project "Grow It", a Dominica initiative to:
 - a. Participants in Summit of Infrastructure Evaluation of America will include Member States' Minister of Agriculture and other ministers responsible for infrastructural development, as well as experts on the subject of climate, infrastructure, economy, and sustainable development.
 - i. Secure cultivations till the moment of the harvest.
 - ii. Reduce economic costs and social loss, such as houses, schools, hospitals, among others.
 - b. Facilitate the construction of infrastructure for the development of agricultural activity, taking into account the risks of natural disasters and their consequences in the population.
 - c. Support the initiatives of NGOs and private investors that would like to partner with the government and international organizations such as the Pan American Development Foundation, in promoting infrastructural agricultural development.
 - d. Be developed by the Member State Ministries of Agriculture and other ministries that oversee infrastructural development.
 - e. Be carried out by the Inter-American Committee in Social Development (CIDES).
3. That CIDES sponsor an annual Summit for the Infrastructure Evaluation of America in which Member States share and evaluate their infrastructural initiatives:
 - a. Participants in Summit of Infrastructure Evaluation of America will include Member States' Ministers of Agriculture and other ministers responsible for infrastructural development.
 - b. The Commonwealth of Dominica will host the 1st Summit for the Infrastructure Evaluation of the Americas. This Summit will take place over three days, beginning on October 17th in the spirit of the International Day for the Eradication of Poverty:
 - i. First day sessions will focus on the relationship between infrastructural development and the reduction of poverty.
 - ii. Second day sessions will address the most urgent problems in promoting infrastructural development, particularly in relation to the impact of natural disasters.
 - iii. Third day sessions will prepare an Infrastructure Evaluation of Americas report. This report will include summarize efforts of Member States to implement infrastructural development programs, and their results in terms of reducing the impact of natural disasters on agriculture and key infrastructure.

- 4. The funding for the first Summit will be provided mainly by government of the Commonwealth of Dominica, along with voluntary donations from Member States, Non-Governmental Organizations such as the Friends Disaster Service, Pan American Development Foundation, among others.

THE INCORPORATION OF AN ARTICLE WITHIN THE OAS CHARTER THAT AIMS
AT ACHIEVING A FAIR, ADEQUATE, JUST AND EQUAL
HEALTH CARE SYSTEM IN THE HEMISPHERE

Third Committee

Topic No. 1 of the Agenda

Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of the Oriental Republic of Uruguay

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

Article 25 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights that states "everyone has the right to a standard of living adequate for the health and well-being of himself and of his family, including food, clothing, housing and medical care and necessary social services";

CONSIDERING:

The current efforts that are being made by the Pan American Health Organization, including resolution CD53.R14 on the Strategy for Universal Access to Health and Universal Health Coverage that urges the Member States to "define and implement actions to improve the organization and management of health services through the development of health care models that focus on the needs of people and communities, increasing response capacity at the primary level of care through integrated health services networks";

Category 3 of the Strategic Plan of the Pan American Health Organization 2014-2019 that "includes implementing approaches based on gender equality, ethnicity, equity, and human rights for promoting health";

Category 4 of the Strategic Plan of the Pan American Health Organization 2014-2019 "for strengthening health systems based on primary care; focusing on health governance and financing toward progressive realization of universal health coverage and the subsequent plan targets to be met by 2019"; and

DEEPLY CONCERNED WITH:

The absence of an article within the Charter of the Organization of American States (OAS) dedicated solely to ensuring medical services and health coverage in both urban and rural areas,

RESOLVES:

1. To invite Member States to recognize the principles of fairness, adequacy, justice and equality in all health care systems of the Hemisphere; including the right to distributive justice and the respect for people's rights regardless of their social-economic status, culture, gender, disability or prognosis.
2. To incorporate an article within Chapter VII of the OAS Charter that ensures that every individual has access to a health care system that is accomplished by the implementation of the following elements:
 - a. Ensuring primary level care.
 - b. Universal coverage, both in rural and urban areas.
 - c. Access to affordable and quality health care services.
 - d. Fair distribution of the financial costs of health care, both from public and private funding.
 - e. A workforce dedicated to healthcare services that is adequately trained and numerous enough to provide sufficient coverage,
 - f. Sanitary installations with sufficient capacity to cover health care services.

- g. Consider the Member States' social, economic and political conditions.
3. To urge the Member States to implement the above stated article in the OAS Charter.

DEVELOPING A FORUM TO ADVANCE INNOVATIVE HEALTHCARE SYSTEMS IN THE AMERICAS

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Peru

Topic No. 1 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

ACKNOWLEDGING:

Under the Declaration of Asunción for the 44th Regular Session of the OAS General Assembly titled "Development with Social Inclusion" which calls for "minimizing the incidence and severity of territorial gaps with concrete integral development actions in the areas of education, healthcare, and social inclusion, bearing in mind the well-being of future generations" for Latin Americans;

Article 94 of the Charter of the Organization of American States that emphasizes the promotion of "cooperation among the American States for the purpose of achieving integral development and, in particular, helping to eliminate extreme poverty, in accordance with the standards of the Charter, especially those set forth in Chapter VII with respect to the economic, social, educational, cultural, scientific, and technological fields";

BEARING IN MIND:

The Permanent Council's Committee on Juridical and Political Affairs which passed a resolution titled "Program of Action for the Decade of the Americas for the Rights and Dignity of Persons with Disabilities" in 2006, stating the need to "promote the right of persons with disabilities to participate fully in the social life and the development of their societies and to enjoy living conditions on an equal basis with others, as well as the improvement of living conditions as a result of social and economic development, with respect for their special needs";

Article 95 of the OAS Charter, which conveys that one of its principal objectives is to: "Periodically evaluate cooperation activities for integral development, in terms of their performance in the implementation of policies, programs, and projects, in terms of their impact, effectiveness, efficiency, and use of resources";

IN ADDITION:

To its direct effect on health standards, basic health is a pillar of development, an effective means to achieve goals of poverty reduction, a complement to higher education rates, and an opportunity to capitalize on economic growth as human capital is further developed;

That integral development in the OAS Charter seeks to meet the needs of the present without compromising the opportunities of generations in the future to meet their own needs;

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

Article 2(p) of the Constitution of the World Health Organization (WHO) which encourages UN Member States "to study and report-on, in cooperation with other specialized agencies where necessary, administrative and social techniques affecting public health and medical care from curative points of view, including hospital services and social security";

That the mission of the Pan American Development Foundation is “to assist vulnerable and excluded people and communities in the Americas to achieve sustainable economic and social progress, strengthen communities...thereby advancing the principles of the Organization of American States and Creating a Hemisphere of Opportunity for All”;

The vision of the International Food Policy Research Institute (IFPRI) is “to provide research based-policy solutions that sustainably reduce poverty and end hunger and malnutrition in developing countries”;

The commitment of the Trace Research and Development Center to the “development of research-based technology strategies and solutions, with the end goal of increasing the accessibility of information and communication technologies for people with disabilities”; and

REALIZING:

That the World Health Organization defines a health system as “all the activities whose primary purpose is to promote, restore, or maintain health”;

That low-income, developing countries can achieve fairness in allocating its resources towards equitable health care systems;

That the IFPRI has conducted intensive research on innovative health programs, such as Progresas/Oportunidades, and data indicate that such programs were successful in reducing malnutrition, increasing family use of health care, improving child health indicators, school attendance, and diminishing dropout rates;

The Trace Research and Development Center has initiated multiple projects geared toward the enhancement of resource/technology prototypes pertaining to increased accessibility for disabled persons, impact on education, and employment efforts,

RESOLVES:

1. To congratulate the numerous nations that have invested in health care systems that are based on conditional cash transfers (CCT), originated in Mexico, and other innovative programs geared toward improving child nutrition, rural and urban health equity and creating an integral institution aimed toward the elimination of poverty.
2. To encourage the Inter-American Development Bank, WHO, and UNICEF to provide financial aid and informational resources to the countries of the region already involved in innovate health care systems as well as those Member States that have scarce resources and aim to implement them too.
3. To establish an innovative health care initiative with the formation of a forum, to be organized in the following manner:
 - a. To create a forum made up of all the Member States of the OAS that would meet at the end of the year, on a date TBD in December 2017, to discuss the issues surrounding health care, and what policy solutions seem to be most effective in each respective state.
 - b. To ask that the health minister of each member state be the representative for the meeting.
 - c. To invite representatives of OAS observer states who are committed to the enhancement of health care systems by providing informational expertise.
 - d. To request that representatives from IFPRI, PADF, PAHO, and Trace Research and Development Center participate in said forum, organizations experienced in conducting research and providing services to vulnerable populations, attend the conference to provide quantitative, professional expertise towards the issue of health care.

4. To accomplish the following goals at the forum:
 - a. To come to a consensus on the future direction of health care in the Hemisphere, emphasizing systems that are geared toward reducing poverty and improving education.
 - b. To discuss the effectiveness and ineffectiveness of existing health care systems throughout the region evaluate innovative systems that could be adopted in the future.
 - c. To have the delegation of Peru produce a detailed report of the findings of the meeting, and present it to the General Assembly at the annual OAS conference in 2018.
5. To have the delegation of Peru host the forum in Lima, with traveling expenses for the research organizations being handled by private donations.

IMPLEMENTING COMMUNITY MOBILE TEAMS TO IMPROVE AND PROMOTE MATERNAL HEALTH IN RURAL AREAS

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Guatemala

Topic No. 1 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 17 of the Social Charter of the Americas, in which Member States reaffirm that health is a fundamental condition for social cohesion and inclusion, integral development and economic growth with equity, and also a fundamental right for every human being without discrimination;

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

The contributions of the Pan-American Health Organization (PAHO) to promote the inclusion of health in all public policies and the engagement of all sectors in efforts to ensure that people live longer, healthier lives, with good health as their most valuable resource;

The commitment of the Pan-American Health Organization (PAHO) on its engagement to ensuring that all people have access to the quality health care they need and to support the right of everyone to good health;

CONSIDERING:

That according to the World Health Organization (WHO) women living in rural areas and in poorer communities face a higher risk of losing their lives due to preventable pregnancy-related causes;

That according to the Americas Report of the Canadian Red Cross, the Maternal, newborn and child health in, addressing newborn deaths should be considered a priority since almost 50% of under-five deaths occur in the neonatal period;

RECOGNIZING:

That stronger health systems — with facilities that have adequate health workers and equipment and medicine — are required to support the efforts of the Pan-American Health Organization (PAHO) in delivering quality healthcare to save the lives of women and their newborn babies;

RESOLVES:

1. To acknowledge the work achieved by Member States to promote and improve maternal and reproductive healthcare throughout the hemisphere.
2. To reiterate the importance of implementing innovative healthcare projects that help the most vulnerable and remote populations of the Americas.

3. To create and establish mobile teams organized in a system supervised by the Ministry of Health of each Member States upon the following suggestions, but not limited to:
 - a. the creation of teams of multidisciplinary health professionals, i.e. nurses, doctors, midwives
 - b. To adopt the best standards according to the maternal and reproductive health guidelines of the Pan-American Health Organization (PAHO).
 - c. To adopt culturally and community adapted healthcare approaches by hiring workers with aboriginal languages and traditional health knowledge.
 - d. To visit remote areas using the most practical means to transportation (bus, boat, etc.) and following a planned schedule to facilitate regular follow up with women.

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of the Dominican Republic

Topic No. 2 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

Article 2g of the Charter of the Organization of American States (OAS), which sets forth as an essential purpose, “To eradicate extreme poverty, which constitutes an obstacle to the full democratic development of the peoples of the hemisphere”;

Article 3f of the Charter, which declares that “The elimination of extreme poverty is an essential part of the promotion and consolidation of representative democracy and is the common and shared responsibility of the American States”;

Article 12 of the Inter-American Democratic Charter, which states: “Poverty, illiteracy, and low levels of human development are factors that adversely affect the consolidation of democracy. The OAS member states are committed to adopting and implementing all those actions required to generate productive employment, reduce poverty, and eradicate extreme poverty, taking into account the different economic realities and conditions of the countries of the Hemisphere. This shared commitment regarding the problems associated with development and poverty also underscores the importance of maintaining macroeconomic equilibria and the obligation to strengthen social cohesion and democracy”;

HAVING SEEN:

Article 14 of the Social Charter of the Americas, which states that “Member states have a responsibility to develop and implement comprehensive social protection policies and programs, based on the principles of universality, solidarity, equality, non-discrimination, and equity that give priority to persons living in conditions of poverty and vulnerability, taking into account their national circumstances”;

Article 21 of the Social Charter, which states: Fighting poverty, reducing inequities, promoting social inclusion, conservation and sustainable use of natural resources are fundamental and interrelated challenges facing the Hemisphere, and overcoming these challenges is essential to achieving sustainable development. Member States will adopt and execute, with the participation of the private sector and civil society organizations, strategies, plans, and policies to meet these challenges as part of their development efforts and for the benefit and enjoyment of all persons and all generations”;

RECALLING:

The Sixth Summit of the Americas (Medellín, 2012), in which Member States agreed “To deepen inter-American cooperation in the area of development and social protection with a view to strengthening human and institutional capacity-building efforts, and generating a skilled workforce, with a gender perspective and giving attention to vulnerable groups”;

Article 55 of the Declaration of Mar del Plata (Fourth Summit of the Americas, 2005), "Creating Jobs to Fight Poverty and Strengthen Democratic Governance," which affirms that: "We are committed to building a more solid and inclusive institutional framework, based on the coordination of economic, labor, and social public policies to contribute to the generation of decent work, which must comprise...A comprehensive framework for rural and agricultural development, to promote investment, job creation, and rural prosperity"; and

CONSIDERING:

Data provided by the United Nations Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC), stating that the average percentage rate of poverty within rural communities of the Dominican Republic is 43.6 %;

That Latin America has 19.2% of its overall population living in extreme poverty (ELAC, 2014);

AG/DEC. 74(XLIV-O/14), the Declaration of Asunción for the Forty-Fourth Regular Session of the OAS General Assembly, "Development With Social Inclusion," which calls on Member States to promote "inclusive professional and technical training, as well as the development of mechanisms for skills certification in order to facilitate job market access and reinsertion," to support "personal and professional advancement, with an emphasis on innovation" and to maximize "productivity in the economy and institution building";

AG/ RES. 2637 (XLI-O/11), "The Convocation of the XVII Inter-American Conference of Ministers of Labor and Support for the Inter-American Network for Labor Administration," which "declared that [Member States] would continue to develop and implement social protection and inclusion policies and programs that give priority to those living in conditions of poverty and vulnerability in our societies, and would continue to promote access to education, health, nutrition, energy, basic social services and to opportunities for dignified and decent work",

RESOLVES:

1. To commend Member States in their continuous efforts to eradicate poverty.
2. To encourage Member States to establish and fund local outreach centers placed in impoverished rural communities, for the purpose of providing health and social services, whereby:
 - a. Creation of the outreach centers would be best determined by individual Member States, understanding that establishment of these outreach centers may fall on volunteers from selected NGOs, also at the discretion of Member States.
 - b. Social services could include, but are not limited to: mental health, domestic violence intervention, family planning, services for the illiterate and disabled individuals, basic first aid and vaccinations, etc.
3. To urge that Member States—in establishing such local outreach centers—provide training for social workers, volunteers and locally-hired employees, through NGOs and other available resources, including these stipulations:
 - a. To have available resources submit reports about the progress of their services on a time schedule determined by each member state.
 - b. Employees from the community should be held responsible for administering and overseeing building use when social workers and volunteers are not available.
 - c. Employees should be recruited from within the communities to serve in the centers.

4. To request that Member States who chose to implement these outreach centers ensure that citizens within their most vulnerable populations have access to services in these centers, by:
 - a. Providing adequate transportation to social workers and volunteers for travel to these rural communities at least twice a month.
 - b. Designating a set number of local social workers to receive any necessary training.

5. To recommend that participating Member States needing additional funding for this program, training, and other necessary support seek it from: the World Health Organization, the World Bank, the Inter-American Development Bank, Médicos de mundo, the American Red Cross, the Hunger Project, and other interested NGOs.

Third Committee

Topic No. 3 of the Agenda

Draft Resolution presented by the Delegation of The Commonwealth of Barbados

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

GUIDED BY:

Article 3 of the Social Charter of the Americas in which Member States affirm their solidarity, and acknowledge that the high aims that are sought for social development and equality require political cooperation among them, based on the effective exercise of representative democracy;

CONSIDERING:

Article 17 of the Social Charter of the Americas in which Member States reaffirm the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of health as a fundamental right of all persons without discrimination, and recognize that health is an essential condition for social inclusion and cohesion, integral development, and economic growth with equity;

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

The contributions of the Organization of the American States to technical cooperation in policies among Member States, aiming at combating exclusion against persons with disabilities in the labor force, as well as at addressing critical matters of health, social inclusion, education, accessibility and political participation, where joint actions are needed to improve access, protection, and inclusion for this vulnerable population; and

HAVING CONSIDERED:

The commitment of Member States to act on and to promote plans to improve attention to and protection of persons with disabilities, and the need to include in these policies special provisions for children with disabilities, who require special care and assistance for their parents and/or caretakers; guaranteeing among other things, their access to health services, education, and technical and professional training to prepare them, from an early age, for their incorporation into productive activities,

RESOLVES:

1. To commend the efforts developed by the Organization of American States and its Member States to undertake programs, plans and measures for the inclusion and full participation by persons with disabilities in all aspects of society; and to promote measures to provide them with opportunities, and rehabilitation services and programs.
2. To request that the Executive Secretariat for Integral Development work with the Program of Action for the Decade of the Americas for the Rights and Dignity of Persons with Disabilities (2016-2026) to include specific initiatives that reinforce the protection for children with disabilities in Member States, and that strengthen coordination regarding personnel, logistics, supplies, infrastructure, and campaigns, aiming at providing these with opportunities and services that facilitate their inclusion.

3. To recommend that as part of those measures, Member States establish a cooperation system that provides advice and support from countries with advanced health systems to those that need support in that regard, in order to improve their capacities to provide health services to children with disabilities, to support the adaptation of their hospital infrastructure with technology and supplies, and to develop information campaigns and programs for families, aimed at eliminating prejudices, stereotypes and other attitudes that threaten the integrity of these vulnerable children.
4. To support and encourage educational programs using new information and communication technologies to meet the special educational needs associated with children’s disabilities, and promoting research programs that enhance the scientific understanding across the hemisphere about children’s disabilities and the ways to prevent new ones. These programs can include research organizations such as the Caribbean Research and Empowerment Network (CREN).
5. To promote the recognition of the value of children with disabilities and the eradication of barriers to their development and inclusion, and to invite Member States to develop international and national volunteering programs that support the provision of services and support to this specific population.
6. To suggest that as part of the measures included in the Program of Action for the Decade of the Americas for Persons With Disabilities (2016-202), countries establish specific actions regarding the provision of vital medications to treat children disability-related diseases, including the creation of a bank of medications for countries that need supplies, and the regulation of access, supply and prices of critical medications to attend this vulnerable group.
7. To transmit the concern of Member States for the future of the children with disabilities, and to reinforce the importance of starting training and education programs that, from an early age, benefit them with opportunities to receive vocational counseling and training for a job that eventually guarantee their insertion in the labor force.
8. To request that the Secretary General report to the General Assembly at its Forty-Seventh Regular Session on the implementation of this resolution.

INVESTING IN RURAL INFRASTRUCTURE TO PROMOTE INTEGRAL DEVELOPMENT NOW AND IN THE FUTURE

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Ecuador

Topic No. 2 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

RECALLING:

Article 45(a) of the OAS Charter which states that, “All human beings, without distinction as to race, sex, nationality, creed, or social condition, have a right to material well-being and to their spiritual development, under circumstances of liberty, dignity, equality of opportunity, and economic security”;

Article 45(f) of the OAS Charter which recognizes that, “the incorporation and increasing participation of the marginal sectors of the population, in both rural and urban areas, in the economic, social, civic, cultural, and political life of the nation, in order to achieve the full integration of the national community, acceleration of the process of social mobility, and the consolidation of the democratic system. The encouragement of all efforts of popular promotion and cooperation that have as their purpose the development and progress of the community”;

REAFFIRMING:

The Declaration of Asunción for the Forty-Fourth Regular Session of the OAS General Assembly: “Development with Social Inclusion,” which considers that “People’s quality of life and the full enjoyment of their rights and freedoms can be improved by minimizing the incidence and severity of territorial gaps with concrete integral development actions in the areas of education, healthcare, and social inclusion, bearing in mind the well-being of future generation”; and

NOTING WITH GREAT CONCERN:

That the rural poor in the majority OAS Member states have the least access to basic healthcare, education, employment opportunities, competitive markets, and leisure activities,

RESOLVES:

1. To commend OAS Member States that have taken initiative in improving rural infrastructure and minimizing territorial gaps, specifically Peru’s Interoceanic Highway Project.
2. To strongly urge member states to reallocate infrastructure spending, and increase investment in rural infrastructure with the aims of:
 - a. Investing in rural infrastructure in such a way that would facilitate future infrastructure investments (i.e. electricity, sewage, internet connectivity, etc.) at a lower cost.
 - b. Utilizing new infrastructure to improve access for the rural poor to healthcare, education, employment, competitive markets, and meaningful social inclusion.

3. To mandate that the OAS Inter-American Agency for Cooperation and Development (IACD) monitor the progress of OAS Member States and report back to the General Assembly on an annual basis on the increase in spending on rural infrastructure, the progress of construction, and its fiscal impact on rural economies.
4. To suggest that each member state propose their own infrastructure plan considering said states socio-economic conditions and rural needs. Said plan should be monitored by the IACD.
5. To recommend that rural development be measured through the following indicators:
 - A) GINI Index
 - B) Rural poverty headcount ratio at national poverty lines
 - C) Poverty headcount ratio at $3.10/day
 - D) Poverty headcount ratio at $1.90/day
 - E) Rural infant and maternal mortality
 - F) Rural adult literacy
 - G) GDP by sector: agriculture

IMPROVING THE LIVELIHOODS OF OUR NEEDIEST: A COMPREHENSIVE APPROACH

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Argentina

Topic No. 2 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

“Article 12 of the Inter-American Democratic Charter, which asserts that “poverty, illiteracy, and low levels of human development are factors that adversely affect the consolidation of democracy. The OAS member states are committed to adopting and implementing all those actions required to generate productive employment, reduce poverty, and eradicate extreme poverty”;

Article 13 of the Inter-American Democratic Charter, which states that “The promotion and observance of economic, social, and cultural rights are inherently linked to integral development, equitable economic growth, and to the consolidation of democracy in the states of the Hemisphere”;

Article 14 of the Inter-American Democratic Charter, which claims that “Member states agree to review periodically the actions adopted and carried out by the Organization to promote dialogue, cooperation for integral development, and the fight against poverty in the Hemisphere, and to take the appropriate measures to further these objectives”;

Article 2(g) of the OAS Charter, which establishes as one of its primary goals “To eradicate extreme poverty, which constitutes an obstacle to the full democratic development of the peoples of the hemisphere”;

Article 3(f) of the OAS Charter, which claims “The elimination of extreme poverty is an essential part of the promotion and consolidation of representative democracy and is the common and shared responsibility of the American States”;

Article 34 of the OAS Charter, which states that “...Member States agree that equality of opportunity, the elimination of extreme poverty, equitable distribution of wealth and income and the full participation of their peoples in decisions relating to their own development are, among others, basic objectives of integral development”;

CONSIDERING:

That the improvement of the livelihoods of the poorest 20% of the Hemisphere’s population will lead to the diminished presence of inequality across the realms of healthcare, income, education, etc., and that investing in infrastructure and subsidies for the poorest 20% of Latin America will improve the productivity of the nation as a whole and create a larger market for consuming goods and services;

That investing resources into the impoverished areas of Latin America will lead to decreased levels of malnutrition, child mortality, illiteracy, and other inhibiting living standards;

RECOGNIZING:

That one in five Latin Americans live in chronic poverty conditions and that Latin Americans account for 130 million of the nearly 500 million who live in chronic poverty worldwide;

That those living in poverty in Latin America lack access to safe water and sanitation, as the World Water Council reported that 77 million people lack access to safe water. These impoverished Latino citizens also lack access to basic health care services, as approximately 20 percent of the Latin American populations lacks access to health care due to poverty conditions;

In 2014 the richest 10% of people in Latin America had amassed 71% of the region's wealth. In just six years' time the richest 1% in the region will have accumulated more wealth than the remaining 99%;

Latin American countries take in only 20% of their GDP through taxes whereas most OECD countries take in around 35% through taxes. This leaves countries with an inability to conduct meaningful poverty reduction programs;

The unemployment rate among Latin American youth is at 14%; and

RECALLING:

The UN's resolution A/RES/47/134 (1992), "Human Rights and Extreme Poverty," which reaffirms that "extreme poverty and exclusion from society constitute a violation of human dignity and that urgent national and international action is therefore required to eliminate them";

The UN's resolution A/51/178 (1997), "First United Nations Decade for the Eradication of Poverty", which expresses its solidarity "with people living in poverty in all countries and reaffirms that the satisfaction of basic human needs closely interrelated and comprising nutrition, health, water and sanitation, education, employment, housing and participation in cultural and social life";

The OAS's resolution AG/RES. 2392 (2008), "Poverty, Equity, and Social Inclusion: Follow-up to the Declaration of Margarita", which cites Article 2.g of the Charter of the Organization of American States which notes that one of its essential purposes is "to eradicate extreme poverty, which is an obstacle to the full democratic development of the peoples of the Hemisphere";

The OAS's resolution AG/RES. 2449 (2009), "Social Charter of the Americas: Renewal of the Hemispheric Commitment to Fight Poverty in the Region", which asserts that "poverty, illiteracy, and low levels of human development are factors that adversely affect the consolidation of democracy",

RESOLVES:

1. To actively advocate for enhanced cooperation in taxation enforcement, the introduction of progressive taxation policies, and the creation of targeted subsidies among member states to alleviate poverty and inequality:
 - a. Enhanced cooperation in taxation enforcement shall be accomplished through increased information sharing and potential joint enforcement operations among the American Police Community (AMERIPOL).
 - b. Research shall be conducted in partnership with the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development's (OECD) Office of the Secretariat to generate optimal economic policy recommendations.
 - c. An international working academic group shall be created to analyze current distributions of tax incidence among member states.
 - i. A mutually agreed upon standard of equality in distributions of taxation incidence shall here be established by the Member States.
 - d. Targeted subsidies refer in particular to the poorest 20% of the hemisphere's population, who have been devastated by local and global economic conditions.

2. To commit to the reduction of youth unemployment through heightened hemispheric participation in the Global Apprenticeship Network (GAN):
 - a. Private-sector entities headquartered in member states shall be encouraged and incentivized to sign on to GAN.
 - b. Member states are encouraged to increase private-sector participation in this transnational effort.
3. To promote further Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) initiatives through increased partnership with the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).
 - a. UNESCO partners such as the International Association for Educational and Vocational Guidance (IAEVG) shall be consulted for particular policy recommendations pertaining to enhanced career counseling services and vocational education initiatives.
4. To monitor progress of the United Nation's (UN) Latin America Clean Water Initiative.
5. Successes and failures shall be evaluated for potential implementation of a similar program.
 - a. Such a program would seek funding from blended, private-sector financial institutions such as the International Finance Corporation (IFC) of the World Bank.
 - b. The focus of similar programming would be the widespread installment of permanent water infrastructure among member states most in need.
6. To alleviate disease, child mortality, and malnutrition through the creation of a conditional cash transfer program.
7. Such a program shall be modeled after Brazil's highly successful Bolsa Familia program.
8. Funds for said program shall be awarded to member states based upon population density.
9. These funds shall be further disbursed to local governments based upon achievement of benchmarks set by this body.
10. Funding for said program shall originate from the OAS Development Assistance Fund.

ENVISIONING A FAIR AND ADEQUATE HEALTHCARE SYSTEM THROUGH THE CREATION AND IMPLEMENTATION OF MATERNAL HEALTH PROGRAMS FOR THE RURAL AREAS

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Nicaragua

Topic No. 1 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 34 of the Charter of the Organization of American States (OAS), establishing that “The Member States agree that equality of opportunity, the elimination of extreme poverty, equitable distribution of wealth and income and the full participation of their peoples in decisions relating to their own development are, among others, basic objectives of integral development. To achieve them, they likewise agree to devote their utmost efforts to accomplishing the following basic goals:

- i) Protection of man's potential through the extension and application of modern medical science;
- j) Proper nutrition, especially through the acceleration of national efforts to increase the production and availability of food;
- l) Urban conditions that offer the opportunity for a healthful, productive, and full life”;

Article 17 of the Social Charter of the Americas, acknowledging that “Member states reaffirm that the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of health is a fundamental right of all persons without discrimination and they recognize that health is an essential condition for social inclusion and cohesion, integral development, and economic growth with equity. In that context, member states reaffirm their responsibility and commitment to improve the availability of, access to, and quality of health care services. Member states are committed to these country efforts in the health area, in keeping with the principles promoted by the Health Agenda for the Americas 2008-2017: human rights, universality, comprehensiveness, accessibility and inclusion, Pan American solidarity, equity in health, and social participation. Member states affirm their commitment to promote healthy lifestyles and to strengthen their capacity to prevent, detect, and respond to chronic non-communicable diseases, current and emerging infectious diseases, and environmental health concerns. Member states also commit to promote their people's' well-being through prevention and care strategies and, in partnership with public or private organizations, to improve access to health care”;

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

Article 1 of the Constitution of the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) stating its fundamental purpose of promoting and coordinating efforts of the countries of the Western Hemisphere to combat disease, lengthen life, and promote the physical and mental health of the people;

CONSIDERING:

People in rural areas have the lowest access to healthcare and 43 percent of the population live in rural areas. Some of this low access is due to the lack of funding for medical professionals to work in rural areas; and

RECOGNIZING:

The research of Heather Wurtz, a professor of Sociomedical Sciences at Columbia University, which has revealed numerous factors for unintended pregnancies and unsafe abortion, including poverty, lower education levels, high fertility rates, younger age at first intercourse, adolescent pregnancy, rural areas of residence, sexual violence and insubordination, and cultural and language barriers in health care facilities;

The World Health Organization (WHO) outlining Nicaragua's most pressing health concerns on maternal mortality remaining high in disadvantaged groups, such as rural and indigenous populations, the poor, adolescents, and women with low levels of schooling, even though the total fertility rate has fallen,

RESOLVES:

1. To acknowledge the continuing work done by the Organization of American States, in collaboration with the Pan American Health Organization and the World Health Organization, in updating the assistance in the quality of healthcare services provided toward rural poor areas.
2. To develop a new Maternal Health Pilot Program (MHPP) for rural areas modeled upon the Casa Maternas program based in Matagalpa, Nicaragua and in Cuba and a similar program in Ecuador, the Centro Médico de Orientación y Planificación Familiar (CEMOPLAF), and to provide community volunteers and the establishment of clinics as well as outreach projects and reproductive health care and education programs targeted towards rural, Indigenous communities.
3. That five pilot programs be named by the MHPP program director, located in Member States with the lowest per capita GDP in the region.
4. That the MHPP will:
 - a. Coordinate with the Office of the Assistant Director of PAHO/WHO, specifically under Maternal Health and Mortality Reduction Programme.
 - b. Serve as healthcare and education programs for the poorest 20 percent of the population, less well educated youth, and providing service for adolescent pregnancies in rural areas.
 - c. The poorest 20 percent of the population will be determined by each Member.
 - d. The program director will be charged with realization of the following goals:
 - i. To ensure the opportunity of fair and adequate healthcare and reduction in poverty levels in the rural areas of the Americas.
 - ii. To provide outreach programs and opportunities to educate, reduce the poverty level, and decrease the maternal mortality rate.
 - iii. Additionally, to provide more incentive and increase in medical professionals working in rural areas.
 - e. Strongly urge member states to adopt obligatory enrollment for all government-run healthcare providers within Member States, as well as authorize enrollment in private healthcare systems.
 - f. Use as an example the Casas Maternas program in obtaining more access to doctors, resources, and education for the mothers of rural areas.
 - g. Strongly urge for Member States to assist in providing educators, volunteers, and leaders for MHPP outreach programs.
 - h. Be established and carried out by December of 2017.
5. That an annual meeting be held in Managua, Nicaragua, paid for by the OAS, to monitor progress in achieving program goals and to share best practices.
6. To create a fund in which wealthier members of the OAS can voluntarily help poorest members in supporting urgent mortality issues in rural areas of the Americas that shall be managed by the Pan American Health Organization.

7. To fund the resources and projects necessary in order to ensure the success of this new Maternal Health Pilot Program for rural areas through the leverage of funding and donations from the Pan American Health Organizations and the World Health Organizations, as well as the Maternal and Child Health Integrated Program (MCHIP), and international, The United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF), and non-profit health organization affiliated with The Johns Hopkins University, Jhpiego.

INTER-AMERICAN MEDICAL EXPERTISE DEVELOPMENT (MED) PROGRAM

Third Committee

Topic No. 1 of the Agenda

Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of the Federative Republic of Brazil

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

GUIDED BY:

Article 34 of the Organization of American States (OAS) Charter (1948), in which member states “agree to devote their utmost efforts to the protection of man's potential through the extension and application of modern medical science, in an effort to achieve basic objectives of integral development”;

ACKNOWLEDGING:

The 2009 Fifth Summit of the Americas, in which Heads of State and Government recommended the creation of the Inter-American Social Protection Network (IASPN) under the General Secretariat, whose objectives include “strengthening the institutional capacity of national social development agencies in formulating,” and “implementing effective and efficient policies and programs to eradicate extreme poverty, and facilitating greater cross-sectoral cooperation on social protection issues”;

RECALLING:

Article 17 of the Social Charter of the Americas (2012), in which member states reaffirmed “that the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of health is a fundamental right of all persons without discrimination,” and in which they reiterate their “responsibility and commitment to improve the availability of, access to, and quality of health care services”;

REAFFIRMING:

The commitment from the General Assembly and the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) found in resolution CD49.R19 and reiterated in AG/RES. 2810 (XLIII-O/13) to join forces in an effort to move toward universal health coverage in the Americas and to “provide support for the promotion of research and scientific development related to new and improved tools, strategies, technologies, and methods to prevent and control neglected diseases”;

RECOGNIZING THAT:

It is impossible to envision a fair and adequate health care system for the Hemisphere unless efforts are undertaken to ensure that the doctors of this Hemisphere receive world-class training; and

NOTING WITH APPROVAL:

That several member states count among their resources top-notch medical schools capable of providing excellent training for medical students in this Hemisphere,

RESOLVES:

1. To commend member states on their ongoing cooperative efforts to promote a suitable healthcare system for the Hemisphere.

2. To suggest that the Department of Human Development, Education and Employment (DHDEE) work collaboratively with PAHO's Special Program of Sustainable Development and Health Equity (SDE) to create and implement a foreign-training program for health professionals in the Americas that will accomplish the following:
 - a. Encourage technical cooperation to respond efficiently and effectively to specific country needs in regard to professional health training within the framework of the regional and global health agenda of the PAHO.
 - b. Increase the competence of the health professional workforce within the Hemisphere by matching medical students from participating member states to medical schools in participating host member states.
 - c. Provide sociocultural learning experiences to participating future health professionals in order to increase their cross-cultural sensitivity and prepare them for a medical career in an increasingly globalized setting.
3. To create a foreign complimentary training pilot program to this end that would be hosted by Brazil in which a cohort of eligible licensed physicians from other member states completing their residency would be selected to receive medical training in the Universidad de São Paulo.
 - a. To specify that selected physicians from participating member states would complete a year of their residency in the Hospital das Clínicas da Faculdade de Medicina da Universidade de São Paulo (HCFMUSP)- a Escola de Educação Permanente (EEP).
 - b. To stipulate that participants who are not funded by their home institution have the option to work for a year in their host country in exchange for full funding while at FMUSP.
 - c. To request that participants agree to return to their home country at the completion of the program.
 - d. To request that participating member states make all reasonable and necessary accommodations that will allow participants to make a seamless return to their country and to continue their residency program there.
4. To instruct the DHDEE to carry out the evaluation of this pilot program upon the completion of residency of each cohort member which would evaluate the following:
 - a. Student performance on national standards as compared to peers within their member state of origin.
 - b. Student feedback on educational experiences received while in the program.
 - c. Faculty teaching and mentoring quality in home country as compared to the host country.
5. To invite member states interested in participating in such pilot program to contact the Country Focus Support (CFS) Office, which will serve as an effective bridge between country offices and the different levels and areas of PAHO.
6. To request funding from voluntary donations by member states, permanent observer states, and registered non-governmental organizations, such as the Center for International Cooperation in Health and Development, Project HOPE, Uplift International and other pertinent organizations.

7. To request the General Secretariat to report to the General Assembly at its forty-ninth Regular Session on the on-going implementation of this resolution, the execution of which shall be subject to the availability of financial resources in the program-budget of the Organization and other resources.

DIMINISHING HIV/AIDS PROPAGATION THROUGH EQUAL AND FAIR ACCESS TO INFORMATION AND METHODS OF PREVENTION

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of the Republic of Haiti

Topic No. 1 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 2(f) of the Charter of the Organization of American States (OAS), which establishes as one of its essential purposes “To promote by cooperative action, the Member States’ economic, social and cultural development”;

Article 14 of the Social Charter of the Americas, which declares that “Member States have a responsibility to develop and implement comprehensive social protection policies and programs, based on the principles of universality, solidarity, equality, non-discrimination, and equity that give priority to persons living in conditions of poverty and vulnerability”;

Article 17 of the Social Charter of the Americas, which asserts that “The enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of health is a fundamental right of all persons without discrimination and that Member States recognize that health is an essential condition for social inclusion and cohesion”, and “Member States also commit to promote their peoples’ well-being through prevention and care strategies and, in partnership with public or private organizations, to improve access to health care”;

CONSIDERING:

That achieving a fair and adequate health care system involves addressing the main necessities of the most vulnerable sectors of the population;

That the report “HIV in the Americas”, from the World Health Organization (WHO), explains that HIV/AIDS is an epidemic disease that is rapidly increasing in the poorest and more excluded zones of each country as a consequence of the lack of labor and educational opportunities as well as the absence of free access to information and health care services to the population of these zones;

That according to a 2015 WHO report, approximately 3.4 million people in the Hemisphere were living with the Human Immunodeficiency Virus;

NOTING WITH SATISFACTION:

That the Pan Caribbean Partnership against HIV and AIDS (PANCAP) raised $46.74 million (USD) in 2009 to provide therapy to infected people in the region, to train health care workers in HIV/AIDS care and treatment and to develop and update HIV treatment guidelines;

That according to the document “AIDS by the numbers 2015” from the Joint United Nations Program on HIV/AIDS (UNAIDS), the related deaths in Latin America and the Caribbean fell by 31% and 51% respectively between 2000 and 2014;

ACKNOWLEDGING:

The report of the UNAIDS, “Invest in HIV Prevention”, 2015, which emphasizes that everyone has the right to HIV prevention and, in order to fulfill it, it is necessary to provide people who are at increased risk with access to effective, unhindered HIV prevention and treatment services;

UNDERLINING:

The Plan of Action of the Seventh Summit of the Americas, held in Panama City, Panama, in 2015, which highlights the importance of strengthening health systems to prevent, detect, and respond to outbreaks of emerging infectious diseases and other public health emergencies, particularly those with the potential for cross-border effects and impacts on neighboring countries;

The United Nations Sustainable Development Summit, “Transforming Our World for People and Planet”, held in New York City, United States of America, in 2015, which establishes as one of its goals by 2030 “to end the epidemics of AIDS, tuberculosis, malaria and neglected tropical diseases and combat hepatitis, water-borne diseases and other communicable diseases”;

CONSCIOUS:

That according to HIV/AIDS statistics from UNAIDS in 2016, 11,4 million people died around the world because of this communicable infection during the period 2000-2015; and

RECALLING:

AG/RES. 2878 (XLV-O/15), “Plan of Action of the Social Charter of the Americas”, June 16, 2015, which stresses as relevant strategic lines of action in the health area “to strengthen the quality and equity of health care systems and seek to ensure their universal coverage through primary care, preventive and promotion actions, and social protection mechanisms” and “to reduce the impact of communicable diseases on the health of the population through comprehensive multi-sectoral measures, with particular emphasis on HIV/AIDS, tuberculosis, malaria, and neglected and emerging diseases”;

CD55/14, “Plan of Action for the Prevention and Control of HIV and Sexually Transmitted Infections (STI) 2016-2021”, Directing Council, Sixty-Eighth Session of the Regional Committee of WHO for the Americas, Washington DC, United States of America, 26-30 September 2016, which expounds as its main objective “to accelerate progress towards ending the AIDS and STI epidemics as public health problems in the Region of the Americas by 2030, by reducing the incidence of new HIV infections, AIDS-related mortality, and STI-related complications”;

RESOLVES:

1. To recognize the remarkable work done by the Pan-American Health Organization (PAHO) in improving and protecting peoples’ health through the provision of technical assistance to all Member States on the fight against communicable and non-communicable diseases.
2. To create the long-term “Program for Combating HIV/AIDS Propagation through Primary Prevention”, whose principal aim will be to reduce the mortality rates caused by this epidemic, by the following, though not limited to, tasks:
 - a. The development of a hemispheric awareness campaign that will:
 - i. Use audiovisual materials in order to explain the main causes and consequences of the transmission of HIV/AIDS as well as adequate methods to prevent it.
 - ii. Disseminate the information through the media and other means of communication according to the practice and capacity of Member States.
 - iii. Focus its message on young people who are at increased risk of HIV infection.

- iv. Work with the participating member states to tailor the campaign to each state's individual needs and to take into account cultural norms and sensitivities in order to convey the message in the most effective way.
 - b. The cooperation with all the countries of the Hemisphere in reaching the prevention methods effectively guaranteeing not only equal access to every person, especially in the poorest and most excluded areas, but also contributing to the provision of assistance in this matter.
3. To request PAHO, through the Pan-American Sanitary Bureau (PASB), to be in charge of the supervision of the program.
 4. To recommend that the PASB generate a triennial report since the first year of the implementation of the program that will monitor the progress in the most affected regions of the continent and the corresponding criteria for measuring its effectiveness.
 5. To request that the PASB share the aforementioned report to the Inter-American Council for Integral Development (CIDI), as well as each Member State's Ministry of Health.
 6. To seek funding from the WHO, the PAHO, the Special Multilateral Fund of the Inter-American Council for Integral Development (FEMCIDI), the UNAIDS and other NGOs which voluntarily participate in the financial or technical aspect.

CONSOLIDATION OF THE PROGRAM OF ACTION FOR THE DECADE OF THE AMERICAS FOR THE RIGHTS AND DIGNITY OF PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES (2016-2026)

Third Committee
Draft resolution presented by the Delegation of Paraguay

Topic No. 3 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 8 of the Inter-American Democratic Charter, which affirms that any person or group of persons who consider that their human rights have been violated may present claims or petitions to the inter-American system for the promotion and protection of human rights in accordance with its established procedures; and that Member states reaffirm their intention to strengthen the inter-American system for the protection of human rights for the consolidation of democracy in the Hemisphere;

Article 13 of the Inter-American Democratic Charter, which states that “the promotion and observance of economic, social, and cultural rights are inherently linked to integral development, equitable economic growth, and to the consolidation of democracy in the states of the Hemisphere”;

RECALLING:

The Charter of the United Nations and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, according to which all human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights and are entitled to the rights and freedoms enshrined therein without distinction of any kind; the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination; the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights; and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights;

REAFFIRMING

Article 16 of The Social Charter of the Americas, which recognizes that “Fair, equitable, and non-discriminatory access to basic public services is essential for integral development”;

Article 19 of The Social Charter of the Americas, which affirms that “Everyone is entitled to education without discrimination. Access to quality education at all levels and modalities is vital to achieving greater equity, improving standards of living, fostering sustainable development, developing human capital, reducing poverty, strengthening democratic institutions, transmitting civic and social values, creating responsible citizens committed to society, and promoting social inclusion. Member states commit to ensuring equal and universal access to quality primary and secondary education and promote access to education at all levels, with an inclusive approach, especially early childhood education, in accordance with their domestic law”;

TAKING INTO CONSIDERATION:

AG/DEC. 89 (XLVI-O/16), “Declaration Extension of the Decade of the Americas for the Rights and Dignity of Persons with Disabilities and Consolidation of the Program of Action for the Decade of the Americas for the Rights and Dignity of Persons with Disabilities (2016-2026)”;

AG/DEC. 50 (XXXVI-O/06), “Declaration on the Decade of the Americas for the Rights and Dignity of Persons with Disabilities (2006-2016),” adopted in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, under the slogan “Equality, Dignity, and Participation,” the objectives of which are “the recognition and full exercise of the rights and dignity of persons with disabilities and their right to participate fully in economic, social, cultural, and political life and in the development of their societies, without discrimination and on an equal basis with others,”

RESOLVES:

1. To ensure that people with disabilities have access to high education, vocational training, education for adults, and learning for their lifetime without discrimination and under equal conditions with other people; and that in order to do so, member states ensure all the necessary resources such as accommodation, healthcare, transport, education, food, and others, for the integral development of persons with disabilities.
2. To eradicate illiteracy in young adults with disabilities through public campaigns that require reliable transportation to work; access to services; and opportunities to shop, learn, worship, volunteer and socialize, in order to promote the same standards of equality, rights and dignity for everyone.
3. To encourage governments to provide work opportunities for disabled people, such as:
 - a. Companies that give support to the government could employ disabled people in exchange for tax reduction.
 - b. Companies could hire a percentage of people with disabilities, depending on their production or services capacity and efficiency; in this manner, disabled people can integrate with the community and labor force.
4. To promote public services for disabled people; for example, the Government could ensure low cost health care so that disabled people can have social security, health care, fair treatment, and protection of their rights.

PROMOTION OF EQUAL EDUCATION AND OPPORTUNITIES THROUGH INTERCULTURAL BILINGUAL EDUCATION PROGRAMS FOR INDIGENOUS CHILDREN

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Mexico

Topic No. 4 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 28 of the Social Charter of the Organization of American States (OAS), which ensures that “Member states recognize and respect the multicultural and multilingual nature of the nations of the Hemisphere and commit to promote respect for and knowledge of the diverse indigenous cultures,” and that “Indigenous peoples have the right to practice and preserve their traditions, customs, and traditional knowledge, and deserve to have the dignity and diversity of their cultures, traditions, histories, and aspirations respected and promoted”;

Article 16 of the Inter-American Democratic Charter, which establishes that “Education is key to strengthening democratic institutions, promoting the development of human potential, and alleviating poverty and fostering greater understanding among our peoples,” and “to achieve these ends, it is essential that a quality education be available to all, including girls and women, rural inhabitants, and minorities”;

Art. 9 of the Inter-American Democratic Charter, which considers that “The elimination of all forms of discrimination, especially gender, ethnic and race discrimination, as well as diverse forms of intolerance, the promotion and protection of human rights of indigenous peoples and migrants, and respect for ethnic, cultural and religious diversity in the Americas contribute to strengthening democracy and citizen participation”;

CONSIDERING:

Articles 5 and 14 of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, which emphasize that indigenous groups have a right to uphold their distinct institutions while maintaining the right to participate in the “political, economic, social and cultural life of the state”; and further emphasize the need for states to take effective measures to ensure that indigenous children have the right to an education, at all levels, in their own culture and in their own language;

RECOGNIZING:

A CEPAL study, which found that on average 20% of indigenous children of school age do not attend school; in addition, the data also highlight the goal of completion of primary school will be much more difficult to achieve in the case of indigenous peoples, adding to the ethnic inequalities of gender, to the detriment of indigenous women;

The importance of preserving the cultures of the indigenous, who are 7.09% of the Americas’ population; and of maintaining good communication with the communities; it is necessary to provide education for these minorities and to also provide a way to expand the opportunities for all the children around the world;

According to Minority Rights Group International, the majority of children who are out of school are indigenous, and most of them are deprived of access to equal education that is relevant for the understanding of their context and socialization; and

The resolution of the Organization of American States AG/RES. 2888 (XLVI-O/16) “American Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples,” which established that “Indigenous peoples and individuals, particularly indigenous children, have the right to all levels and forms of education, without discrimination,”

RESOLVES:

1. To congratulate the United Nations Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues (UNPFII) for the efforts and accomplishments made to reduce vulnerability of indigenous groups and increase the indigenous people’s participation in member states.
2. To promote the implementation of Inter-American Intercultural Bilingual Educational Programs (IBEPIG) with the Inter-American Teachers Education Network (ITEN) program of the OAS, which incorporates indigenous groups, regardless of ethnicity, gender, social status, limiting mental and physical conditions; and to establish an intercultural education development, through the collaboration of all member states, with a contribution from the Inter-American Committee on Education (CIE) budget and generous contributions from non-governmental organizations and international donors.
3. To foster race equity and equality in educational opportunities for indigenous children in any elementary school of the OAS member states, by the creation of communication campaigns directed for the teachers and members of the ITEN program to raise awareness about race equality through developing recreational group activities encouraging cooperation between boys and girls.
4. To promote early bilingualism generated through the implementation of subjects such as math, science, technology, biology, geography in a second language besides the native language, through the cooperation of ITEN and the CIE to provide technical assistance to the program.

PROGRAM OF ACTION FOR THE DECADE OF THE AMERICAS FOR THE RIGHTS AND DIGNITY OF PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES IN REGARDS TO INCLUSION AND INFRASTRUCTURE (2016-2026)

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Chile

Topic No. 3 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

The Protocol to the American Convention on Human Rights, which establishes the inherent rights of the disabled, to include provisions to be made by member states on behalf of disabled persons;

The Inter-American Convention on Elimination of all Forms of Discrimination against Persons with Disabilities, which develops a plan for communication between member states on matters of research and development, screening and prevention, and protocols for the inclusion of disabled persons;

CONSIDERING:

That one of the main functions of the Organization of American States is the defense of human rights;

That the diversity and inclusion of all peoples is of utmost importance to the prosperity of member states;

That disability creates added needs of the affected persons for accessing public areas and transport and that the lack thereof can lead to discrimination against disabled members of the population;

BEARING IN MIND:

That the American Declaration of the Rights and Duties of Man remarks upon the importance of the dignity of the individual and the achievement of spiritual and material progress to attain happiness;

RECOGNIZING:

The struggle of disabled peoples throughout the Americas and the commitment of the Department of Social Development, Employment and Disability to ensure respect of the rights of the disabled; and

REAFFIRMING:

The Program of Action for the Decade of the Americas for the Rights and Dignity of Persons with Disabilities (2006-2016), which focused on the continuing need to promote the right of persons with disabilities to participate fully in the social life and the development of their societies,

RESOLVES:

1. To reaffirm the commitment of the OAS Member States to encourage the inclusion of disabled people.

2. To include the topic of social corporate responsibility-related policies in the negotiation agenda.
3. To invite Member States to take measures they deem necessary to comply with the commitments they undertake with respect to this resolution, and to promote corporate social responsibility-oriented policies regarding the rights of disabled peoples.
4. To instruct the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights to create a standard for the required infrastructure that disabled persons should be entitled to have to promote their integration into society in terms of public access areas and transport.
5. To strongly encourage member states to pass legislation that would codify into law the aforementioned inclusion of the disabled into public areas and transport.
6. To instruct the General Secretariat to take action to promote the development of an Inter-American Network of Cooperation on Disability issues, with the objective of fostering dialogue and facilitating the sharing of information, experiences and best practices regarding social corporate responsibility and infrastructure reform.

STRENGTHENING THE INTER-AMERICAN NETWORK FOR LABOR ADMINISTRATION (RIAL) TO IMPROVE LIVELIHOODS IN THE HEMISPHERE'S POPULATION THROUGH EMPLOYMENT PROMOTION

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of the United States of America

Topic No. 2 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 2 of the Charter of the Organization of American States (OAS), which establishes that “one of the essential purposes of the Organization is to eradicate extreme poverty, which constitutes an obstacle to the full democratic development of the peoples of the Hemisphere”;

Article 12 of the Inter-American Democratic Charter, which asserts “poverty, illiteracy, and low levels of human development are factors that adversely affect the consolidation of democracy”, and that “the OAS member states are committed to adopting and implementing all those actions required to generate productive employment, reduce poverty, and eradicate extreme poverty, taking into account the different economic realities and conditions of the countries of the Hemisphere”;

Article 13 of the Inter-American Democratic Charter, which emphasizes “the promotion and observance of economic, social, and cultural rights are inherently linked to integral development, equitable economic growth, and to the consolidation of democracy in the states of the Hemisphere”;

Article 8 of Social Charter of the Americas, which emphasizes that “the promotion of decent work, the fight against unemployment and underemployment, as well as addressing the challenges of informal labor are essential elements for achieving economic development with equity”;

RECALLING:

Article 253 of the “Preliminary report on poverty, extreme poverty, and human rights in the Americas” of the OAS Inter-American Commission on Human Rights, which establishes that “poverty and extreme poverty are more than just the lack of income or economic resources. They are also significant obstacles to the enjoyment and exercise of human rights”;

FULLY AWARE OF:

That one of the most effective ways to combat poverty among current and future generations is to maintain a full employment economy;

REALIZING:

The performance of the Department of Social Inclusion of the Executive Secretary for Integral Development (SEDI) for administration of the Inter-American Network for Labor Administration (RIAL);

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

The First Goal of the 2030 United Nations Agenda Sustainable Development Goals, which is to “eradicate extreme poverty and hunger”;

The Declaration of Mar del Plata of the Fourth Summit of the Americas, in which the States in the Hemisphere recognized that "one of the major challenges to democratic stability is to generate productive and quality employment in the interest of ensuring that all our people benefit from economic prosperity";

ACKNOWLEDGING:

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission of The United States Department of Labor which is an independent federal agency that promotes equal opportunity in employment through administrative and judicial enforcement of the federal civil rights laws and through education and technical assistance; and

CONCERNED:

That according to the SEDI, almost 43% of the population live under poverty conditions in Latin America and the Caribbean, and two of every five children live in extreme poverty,

RESOLVES:

1. To congratulate the work developed by the Inter-American Network for Labor Administration (RIAL) in continuously promoting horizontal cooperation and technical assistance in areas such as: modernization and strengthening managerial capacities, improving labor-market operation, ensuring appropriate professional education geared toward the needs of the productive sector, ensuring the application of legislation and protection of workers' rights and promoting tripartite social dialogue.
2. To exhort Member States to:
 - a. To continue voluntary contributions to the Inter-American Network for Labor Administration (RIAL) in order to maintain its valuable work.
 - b. To involve public and private education institutions to provide programs and workshops in areas where each state needs to improve capabilities.
 - c. To present reports of advances in the next Inter-American Conference of Ministers of Labor (IACML).
3. To invite member states to promote informal work regulation in order to optimize the working conditions of all people within the Americas, guaranteeing better conditions and more equal access to those in conditions of poverty.
4. To encourage member states to review workers' guarantees to ensure that they work under fair and with dignity in order that people do not end up working informally.

PROMOTING THE DEVELOPMENT OF MULTI-DIMENSIONAL POVERTY INDEXES THROUGH AN EDUCATIONAL WORKSHOP TO INCREASE UNDERSTANDING OF NATION-SPECIFIC CONDITIONS CAUSING POVERTY

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Honduras

Topic No. 2 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

RECALLING:

The Member States' agreement to Article 93 of the Charter of the Organization of the American States (OAS), which states that "the purpose of the Inter-American Council for Integral Development is to promote cooperation among the American States for the purpose of achieving integral development and, in particular, helping to eliminate extreme poverty";

Article 12 of the Inter-American Democratic Charter, which argues that "the OAS Member States are committed to adopting and implementing all those actions required to generate productive employment, reduce poverty, and eradicate extreme poverty, taking into account the different economic realities and conditions of the countries of the Hemisphere";

Article 3 of the Social Charter of the Americas in which member states are "determined and committed to combating the serious problems of poverty, social exclusion and inequity and to address their underlying causes and their consequences";

BEARING IN MIND:

That the Communiqué of the Second Meeting of Ministers and High Authorities of Social Development restated "that poverty and inequality are multidimensional phenomena that require intersectoral and coordinated interventions in the framework of a national social development strategy...[to] continue to promote the implementation and strengthening of governmental strategies";

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

That Latin American countries "expressed a clear interest in gaining a deeper understanding" of Colombia and Uruguay's Multidimensional Poverty Index (MPI) models presented during the Santa Marta Workshop on Social Policy and International Cooperation in 2012;

That the OAS and twenty OAS Member States participate in the Multidimensional Poverty Peer Network (MPPN), which is an initiative that supports policymakers in establishing MPI measures to create more effective efforts at eradicating poverty globally, nationally and locally;

That the purpose of the Multidimensional Poverty Index is to "analyze other types of deprivations and to design more comprehensive public policies and programs to combat poverty," which extends beyond the factor of income; and

CONSIDERING:

That the Inter-American Social Protection Network (IASPN) was established in 2009 as an OAS initiative “for Member States to share experiences and best practices with regards to social protection systems”;

That the last workshop on the Multidimensional Poverty Index was in September of 2014 coordinated by the OAS-SEDI Inter-American Social Protection Network (IASPN) and the government of Colombia;

That the OAS receives funding for the projects of the Inter-American Social Protection Network (IASPN) through the United States Development Fund for the OAS, which helped finance the Multi-Dimensional Poverty Index workshops held in Colombia in 2013 and 2014,

RESOLVES:

1. To encourage Member States to consider using the Multi-Dimensional Poverty Index.
2. To instruct the Executive Secretariat for Integral Development (SEDI) and the Inter-American Social Protection Network (IASPN) create a 2018 workshop on the Multi-Dimensional Poverty Index and to invite Member States to participate, particularly those nations that have not established a Multidimensional Poverty Index in their country.
3. To encourage SEDI and IASPN to collaborate with the Multi-Dimensional Poverty Peer Network (MPPN), and the Oxford Poverty and Human Development Initiative (OPHDI) in the construction of this Multi-Dimensional Poverty Index workshop.
4. To request the workshop be funded by the Inter-American Social Protection Network through funds given by the United States Department of State through the Development Fund.
5. To request that the Executive Secretariat for Integral Development (SEDI) report on the progress of this workshop to the Permanent Council at the end of the year and to create a report on the event’s results and impact in the participant Member States at the next Permanent Council meeting following the workshop.

PROMOTING A FAIR AND ADEQUATE HEALTH CARE SYSTEM FOR THE HEMISPHERE THROUGH THE EXPANSION OF PRIMARY HEALTH CARE

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of El Salvador

Topic No. 1 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 45 (a) of the Charter of the Organization of the American States (OAS), which states “all human beings, without distinction as to race, sex, nationality, creed, or social condition, have a right to material well-being and to their spiritual development, under circumstances of liberty, dignity, equality of

EMPHASIZING:

Article 13 of the Democratic Charter emphasizes “the promotion and observance of economic, social, and cultural rights are inherently linked to integral development, equitable economic growth, and to the consolidation of democracy in the states of the Hemisphere”;

Article 4 of the Democratic Charter that stresses “Transparency in government activities, probity, responsible public administration on the part of governments, respect for social rights, and freedom of expression and of the press are essential components of the exercise of democracy...The constitutional subordination of all state institutions to the legally constituted civilian authority and respect for the rule of law on the part of all institutions and sectors of society are equally essential to democracy”;

BEARING IN MIND:

Article 17 of the Social Charter of the Americas, which states that “Member states affirm their commitment to promote healthy lifestyles and to strengthen their capacity to prevent, detect, and respond to chronic non-communicable diseases, current and emerging infectious diseases, and environmental health concerns. Member states also commit to promote their peoples’ well-being through prevention and care strategies and, in partnership with public or private organizations, to improve access to health care”;

BELIEVING:

The Declaration of Alma-Ata which asserts that health “is a state of complete physical, mental and social well-being, and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity, is a fundamental human right and that the attainment of the highest possible level of health is a most important world-wide social goal whose realization requires the action of many other social and economic sectors in addition to the health sector”;

REITERATING:

Article 43 of the Charter of the Organization of American States (OAS), which promotes that the Member States: “to encourage economic and financial institutions of the interAmerican system to continue giving their broadest support to regional integration institutions and programs”; and

CONSIDERING:

The Declaration of Commitment of Port of Spain, which commits in Article 31 to “improving the health of our people through the renewal of primary health care and access by the population to comprehensive health care and health services, as well as to essential medicines”,

RESOLVES:

1. To acknowledge the Organization of the American States (OAS), Inter-American Development Bank (IDB), and the Pan-American Health Organization’s (PAHO) commitment to promoting health care innovations and to exploring joint actions in addressing the outbreak responses of diseases across the hemisphere.
2. To encourage Member States to consider alternatives to doctors, for the provision of primary health care across the region:
 - a. Member States should consider lower cost alternatives to using doctors for the provision of basic health care, such as nurse practitioners and physician assistants.
 - b. Work with PAHO members to conduct workshops that promote the opportunities for individuals interested in this field.
 - c. Promote public health services by recommending that States establish funding for better payments for doctors and nurses.
3. To call upon the PAHO and the IDB to help initiate these alternatives by developing a team to work with nurses in the region in order to expand and improve primary health care services by:
 - a. Encouraging Member States to invest more in their medical professional development in order to increase access to affordable primary health care.
 - b. Studying health conditions within the Member States and present findings at the 2018 Summit of the Americas in Peru.
 - c. Requesting that PAHO and the Inter-American Development Bank contribute funding to initiate these alternatives in Member States, to be distributed based on an OAS assessment of the needs and costs of expanding primary health care services in participating Member States.

A PLAN TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE AND AFFORDABLE COMMUNAL HOUSING TO THE MOST VULNERABLE COMMUNITIES IN THE AMERICAS

Third Committee Topic No. 2 of the Agenda Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

The 2006 Declaration and Plan of Action of Santa Cruz (1996) which reiterates “that human beings are at the center of concerns for sustainable development, that they are entitled to a healthy and productive life in harmony with nature, and that poverty alleviation is an integral part of sustainable development”;

Article 34 (k) of the OAS Charter which affirms that “Member States agree that equality of opportunity, the elimination of extreme poverty, equitable distribution of wealth and income and the full participation of their peoples in decisions relating to their own development are, among others, basic objectives of integral development. To achieve them, they likewise agree to devote their utmost efforts to accomplish...[a]dequate housing for all sectors of the population”;

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

That the Inter -American Development Bank (IDB) reported in 2016 “Latin America and the Caribbean is the most urbanized region in the world with almost 80 percent of its population living in cities. The urban population in the region is greater than that of the most developed regions and is almost twice that of Asia and Africa”;

The United Nations Development Programme’s 2016 Human Development Report for Latin America and the Caribbean which states that “[w]hile about 72 million people were lifted from poverty and 94 million rose to the middle classes between 2003 and 2013, the region experienced a recent slowdown and reversal of poverty reduction rates. The annual average of Latin Americans lifted from poverty was nearly 8 million between 2003-2008 and 5 million between 2009-2014. However, in 2015 and 2016, for the first time in decades, the region saw a rise in the number of poor women and men”;

CONCERNED:

That the IDB estimated in 2012 that “[as] many as 2 million out of the 3 million households that spring up annually in Latin American cities are forced to settle in informal housing, such as slums, because of insufficient supply of adequate and affordable dwellings.” The IDAB also found that a “substantial number of families in the region are being priced out of the formal housing market because of low income, inadequate land development, limited credit and insufficient investment in affordable housing”; and

ACKNOWLEDGING:

That the non-governmental organization TECHO has successfully improved the conditions of over 3,500 slums in four member states by provided them homes made of pre-fabricated concrete and recycled steel;

That the Potter's Lane project in California is currently creating permanent housing for homeless veterans using refurbished/recycled shipping containers;

That Proyecto ARQtainer in Chile developed in 2012 earthquake-resistant and low-cost homes using recycled shipping containers, which according to the engineers “provided the ideal building material given their strength, durability, stackability, modular form and ample availability”;

RESOLVES:

1. To recognize the efforts made by Member States, NGOs and International organizations in advocating for the development of adequate and affordable houses for low income people living in urban areas.
2. To direct the Inter-American Council for Integral Development (CIDI) to form a committee that will collect, develop, and disseminate best practices for member states seeking to build adequate and affordable communal housing for low income communities using recycled materials.
3. The committee will be made up of experts in sustainable and affordable housing and representatives of interested NGOs to compile information on, but not limit itself, to:
 - a. Acquiring land, tools, and building materials with the help of other NGOs and private organizations for the development of communal housing.
 - b. Collecting recycled material that is easily available at a low cost and that guarantees the durability of communal houses.
 - c. Developing efficient and effective methods of refurbishing recycled materials for the creation of communal housing.
 - d. Seeking assistance in hiring the best urban development employers and other staff to increase the success rate.
 - e. Recruiting community volunteers for spreading information about the program.
 - f. Conducting informational workshops about the requirements to qualify for communal housing.
 - g. Sponsoring fundraising events to help fund communal housing programs.
4. The committee will disseminate information through a website and an annual progress report. The annual publish report will offer accountability and transparency to stakeholders by reporting on resource management, financial management, and on its impact in the community.
5. To seek funding from, The Pan American Development Foundation (PADF), Hispanics in philanthropy (HIP), TECHO, Center for Global Development (CGD), Habitat for Humanity, Inter-American Development Bank (IDB), International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), Cities Alliance, Towns and Associations of Local Governments (FLACMA), Ministers and High Level Authorities of Housing and Urban Development of Latin America and the Caribbean (MINURVI), United States Agency for International Development (USAID).

Article 34 (i) of the Charter of the Organization of American States (OAS), which urges Member States to devote their utmost efforts to the "protection of man's potential through the extension and application of modern medical science" ;

Article 51 of the Charter of the OAS, which suggests that all Member states "develop science and technology through ... research for the purpose of adapting it to the needs of their integral development" ;

Article 23 of the Social Charter of the Americas, which states that "scientific and technological development helps to ... achieve integral development. Therefore, it is necessary to increase investment ... and applied research";

CONCERNED:

That the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) reported 48 countries and territories in the Americas are confirmed to have indigenous vector-borne transmission of Zika virus since 2015;

That as of July 2016, some 93.4 million people are at risk of Zika infection in Latin America and the Caribbean alone, of whom some 1.7 million are childbearing women;

CONSIDERING:

That the Zika virus is linked to several birth defects and neurological diseases such as microcephaly in newborns and Guillain-Barre syndrome;

That according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), microcephaly is a lifelong condition with no known cure or standard treatment; and that Guillain-Barre syndrome is a condition that damages the affected person's nerve cells, which can result in muscle weakness and paralysis, and has no known cure.

EMPHASIZING:

That according to the World Health Organization, there is no current vaccine to prevent the spread of the Zika Virus; and

RECOGNIZING:

The Permanent Council's meeting of August 2016 (CP/CG-2052/16 rev. 2), which declared an OAS commitment "to work together in combating the Zika virus and its associated conditions, and providing vector control; and to identify priority areas for further action",

RESOLVES:

1. To commend the Permanent Council for addressing the threat of the Zika virus, and to commend Member States for their efforts to prevent its spread.
2. To propose that the OAS create a team of health experts who will collaborate with the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) to create a database containing research results on all aspects of the Zika virus, which will be shared with OAS members, healthcare organizations and corporations striving to prevent the spread of the Zika virus.
3. To recommend that the Inter-American Council for Integral Development be in charge of setting up and supervising the team and their collection of research data, and disseminating research results that could lead to prevention and treatment of Zika for all peoples of the Hemisphere.
4. To propose that the database contain pilot projects and research focusing on the Zika virus conducted by OAS members, including:
 - a. Research into the sources of the virus, such as the biology of the mosquito species.
 - b. Investigation into possible links the Zika virus has with other diseases.
 - c. Studies of new disease transmission factors affecting susceptible populations.
 - d. New findings promising the best methods of prevention and treatment.
 - e. Resources needed to test the effectiveness of potential treatments.
 - f. Prevalence of the virus in each member state, based on the number of cases reported from PAHO.
5. To suggest that the team be assembled by 2018, the database be created by 2019, and the accumulating research results from the database be shared with OAS members, healthcare organizations and corporations by 2020.
6. To urge all member states to contribute this research database, and to:
 - a. Issue monthly reports of Zika cases to PAHO.
 - b. Update the database on any new research results and discoveries regarding the Zika virus.

7. To request funding from PAHO, the World Bank, the United Nations Foundations and National Institutes of Health (NIH).

FURTHERING CONDITIONAL CASH TRASFER PROGRAMS BY IMPROVING EDUCATION AND HEALTH CARE SYSTEMS

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Panama

Topic No. 2 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

REMEMBERING:

The Charter of the Organization of the American States affirms that it is the responsibility of Member States, “To eradicate extreme poverty, which constitutes an obstacle to the full democratic development of the peoples of the hemisphere”;

The OAS Charter calls for Member States to, “Promote, coordinate, and assign responsibility for the execution of development programs ... in areas such as: Economic and social development, including trade, tourism, integration and the environment”;

NOTING:

Conditional Cash Transfer (CCT) programs aim to eradicate poverty, reduce inequality and integrate disenfranchised peoples into the developed state by encouraging participation in health services, education, and other government sponsored entitlements. These programs have the potential to have great impact; however, they inherently rely on the existence and strength of education and health systems. This hinders the effectiveness of CCT programs in nations that have not been able to invest in or develop strong institutions of health and education.;

AKNOWLEDGING:

In recent decades, there has been significant development across the Americas. This development has changed the face of nations, especially in Latin America. The inhabitants of urban environments have been able to somewhat engage in the benefits of such development, but their rural counterparts have been left out. This lack of engagement has contributed to a fragmentation of states and built up economic, social, and political divides that hinder hemispherical integral development;

RECALLING:

Article XII of American Declaration of the Rights and Duties of Man recognizes that every person has the right to an education that will allow them to attain an adequate standard of living and be a useful member of society. This right includes the equal opportunity to utilize the resources that state and communities can provide;

The document further proclaims that every person has the right to enjoy the cultural life, community, and benefits from intellectual progress and scientific discoveries;

NOTING ALSO:

The Inter-American Democratic Charter section III: Democracy, Integral Development, and Combating Poverty reads that, “It is the right and responsibility of all citizens to participate in decisions relating to their own development. This is also a necessary condition for the full and effective exercise of democracy”;

Article 12-16 of the Inter-American democratic charter recognizes that, “Poverty, illiteracy, and low levels of human development are factors that adversely affect the consolidation of democracy.” The document also affirms the OAS’s commitment to, “adopting and implementing all those actions required to generate productive employment, reduce poverty, and eradicate extreme poverty”; and

RECOGNIZING:

That when integrating populations into a larger arena, culturally appropriate measures must be taken to avoid cultural homogenization. Forced integration and assimilation will impede on cultural presence and identity. CCT programs are an appropriate measure due to their at will nature. Individuals who choose not to take advantage of these programs are in no way penalized for doing so,

RESOLVES:

1. To reaffirm the vital role that CCT’s play in the integral development of nations, strengthening of democratic principals, and evoking economic and social progress.
2. To commend nations that presently utilize a form of CCTs and implore member states to implement a CCT program if one is not already in place.
3. To urge the OAS Council for Integral Development to analyze current CCT programs’ strengths and weaknesses to develop a guide of best practices that will be made available to all member states.
4. To call upon the OAS Department of Social Inclusion to work in tandem with the Council for Integral Development in assisting member states to support the implementation and facilitation of CCT programs by:
 - a. Aiding member states develop CCT programs by using the guide of best practices referenced in resolve 2
 - b. Assist in finding or securing financial assistance and funding advice to member states in need of funds to improve a CCT program by the strengthening education and health systems

5. To seek financial support from agencies such as the World Health Organization, International Fund for Agriculture Development, and World Bank to further develop financial support to be dispersed to member states that seek assistance.

GLOBAL SUMMIT FOR HEMISPHERIC AMELIORATION OF NON-COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Jamaica

Topic No. 1 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 33 of the OAS which states that “integral development encompasses, inter alia, the economic, social, educational, cultural, scientific, technological, labor, health, and environmental fields, through which the goals that each country sets for accomplishing it should be achieved”;

Article 34 of the OAS affirms that the “Member States agree that equality of opportunity, the elimination of extreme poverty, equitable distribution of wealth and income and the full participation of their peoples in decisions relating to their own development are, among others, basic objectives of integral development”;

Article 34(I) of the OAS asserts Member State’s commitment to the “Protection of man's potential through the extension and application of modern medical science”;

Article 34(J) of the OAS declares state's’ dedication to the “Proper nutrition, especially through the acceleration of national efforts to increase the production and availability of food”;

Article 13 of the United Nations Charter asserts that member states “promoting international cooperation in the economic, social, cultural, educational, and health fields, and assisting in the realization of human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without distinction as to race, sex, language, or religion”;

Article 12 of the inter-American Democratic Charter declares that “Poverty, illiteracy, and low levels of human development are factors that adversely affect the consolidation of democracy”;

RECOGNIZING:

That one of the leading causes of death in the world are non-communicable diseases (NCDs) such as cardiovascular diseases, chronic respiratory diseases and cancer. According to to the World Health Organization (WHO), of these NCD related deaths, more than 90% occur in low and middle- income countries. Most of these deaths also occur before the age of 70, and are closely related to factors such as tobacco use, unhealthy dietary habits, lack of physical activity, and overuse of alcohol;

That NCD related deaths are linked to ageing, sudden unplanned urbanization, and unhealthy lifestyles; factors that impact low income and impoverished communities the most. Poverty is therefore, linked to NCDs, with low and middle income countries suffering from the largest increase in the number of children overweight. The Pan American Health Organization (PAHO), declared in a 2014 report that non-communicable diseases are an economic and social burden in the Americas that endangers social and economic development in the region;

That NCDs continue to be a problem despite the steps being taken by member states. The Population Reference Bureau (PRB), estimated in its 2013 datasheet that by 2030, 81 percent of deaths will be attributed to NCDs in Latin America and the Caribbean;

NOTING:

That a noncommunicable disease is defined by the World Health Organization as a chronic disease not passed down from person to person. The four most common NCDs are cardiovascular disease, cancer chronic respiratory diseases, and diabetes;

SEEING:

The OAS Health Agenda for the Americas, 2008-2017, in which member states reaffirmed that the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of health is a fundamental right of all persons without discrimination, and recognized that health is an essential condition for social inclusion and cohesion, integral development, and economic growth with equity. In that context, member states commit to improve the availability of, access to, and quality of health care services. OAS member states affirm their support for human rights, universality, comprehensiveness, accessibility and inclusion, Pan American solidarity, equity in health, and social participation;

RECALLING:

Resolution AG/RES. 2308 (XXXVII-O/07, AG/RES. 2475 (XXXIX-O/09) “Eradicating Illiteracy and Fighting Diseases that Affect Integral Development”, which supports pursuing “specific programs to achieve full literacy, with the elimination of functional illiteracy, of the Hemisphere’s population and to improve the quality of education in order to overcome the obstacles for the integral development”;

Resolution AG/RES. 2810 (XLIII-O/13) “The Elimination of Neglected Diseases and Other Poverty-Related Infections” asserts that member states “commit themselves to eliminate or reduce neglected diseases and other infections related to poverty for which tools exist, to levels so that these diseases are no longer considered public health problems by 2015”;

Resolution AG/RES. 2878 (XLV-O/15) “Plan of Action of the Social Charter of the Americas” which proposes “universal access to health care and universal coverage of comprehensive and quality health care, with equity, accompanied by social protection models in health care for populations in situations of vulnerability”; and

RECALLING ALSO:

Paragraph 13 of the Fourth Summit of the Americas held in Mar del Plata, Argentina which recognized that “the reduction of inequality and the elimination of poverty cannot be achieved solely through welfare-oriented social policies, we commit to undertaking comprehensive government policies that institutionalize the fight against poverty. We commit to consolidating more democratic societies with opportunities for all, and will promote greater access for our people to education, health care, labor markets, and credit”;

RESOLVES:

GLOBAL HEALTH DIPLOMACY FOR THE ACHEIVMENT OF UNIVERSAL ACCESS TO HEALTH CARE FOR THE HEMISPHERE

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Ecuador

Topic No. 1 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 31 of the Organization of American States (OAS) Charter, which states that “Inter-American cooperation for integral development is the common and joint responsibility of the Member States, within the framework of the democratic principles and the institutions of the Inter-American system. It should include the economic, social, educational, cultural, scientific, and technological fields, support the achievement of national objectives of the Member States, and respect the priorities established by each country in its development plans, without political ties or conditions”;

Article 34, clauses (i) and (l) of the OAS Charter which recognizes as objectives: “The protection of man’s potential through the extension and application of modern medical science,” and “Urban conditions that offer the opportunity for a healthy, productive, and full life”;

Article 38 of the OAS Charter, which asserts that “Member States shall extend among themselves the benefits of science and technology by encouraging the exchange and utilization of scientific and technical knowledge in accordance with existing treaties and national laws”;

REAFFIRMING:

Article 17 of the Social Charter of the Americas, which establishes that Member states reaffirm that the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of health is a fundamental right of all persons without discrimination and they recognize that health is an essential condition for social inclusion and cohesion, integral development, and economic growth with equity.

Objectives 3 and 3.2 of The Plan of Action of the Social Charter of the Americas, which reflect Member States’ objectives to “Improve the availability of and access to quality health care services in accordance with the principles promoted by the Health Agenda for the Americas 2008-2017”;

RECOGNIZING:

Efforts made by the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) in promotion of global health diplomacy as a means to eradicate inequity of health care across the hemisphere, as well as recognition of universal health care as a fundamental right of all people and communities, outlined in the Strategy for Universal Access to Health and Universal Health Care Coverage; and

CONSIDERING:

The high levels of inequity across the Americas, particularly the lack of comprehensive and adequate health services for citizens situated in areas which lack access to medical facilities, modern medical technology, and resources,

RESOLVES:

1. To commend the cooperation between the OAS and the PAHO to promote adherence to the goals outlined in the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development (2015).
2. To advocate for the establishment of an Interagency Working Group comprised of representatives from the OAS and the PAHO with the role of oversight and guidance of Member States towards achieving universal access to health and universal health coverage.
3. To strongly urge Member States to adopt a system of Health Care Diplomacy. Member states with strong medical networks are encouraged to provide aid to areas which lack easy access to health in the form of, but not limited to:
 - a. Deployment of trained medical professionals to provide health services for areas without easy access to facilities or comprehensive care.
 - b. Provision of necessary medical equipment and essential medicines to areas which lack easy access.
 - c. Educational services to strengthen the local network of medical professionals, as well as create a foundation for future proliferation of medical innovation and information.

IMPROVING LIVELIHOODS BY CREATING FOOD OASES

Third Committee

Topic No. 2 of the Agenda

Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of the Federative Republic of Brazil

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

NOTING:

Article 34 of the 1948 Charter of the Organization of the American States (OAS), which states that to achieve integral development, member states agreed to devote their efforts to accomplishing basic goals such as “Proper nutrition, especially through the acceleration of national efforts to increase the production and availability of food”;

EMPHASIZING:

Article XI of the American Declaration of the Rights and Duties of Man adopted at the 9th international conference of the American States (1948) which states, “every person has the right to the preservation of his health through sanitary and social measures relating to food, clothing, housing and medical care, to the extent permitted by public and community resources”;

RECALLING:

Article 12 of the 1988 Additional Protocol to the American Convention on Human Rights in the Area of Economic Rights, which affirms “In order to promote the exercise of this right and eradicate malnutrition, the States Parties undertake to improve methods of production, supply, and distribution of food”;

RECOGNIZING:

The presentation of the Food Desert Map unveiled at the forty-sixth Regular Session of the General Assembly that mapped food deserts in the Hemisphere; and

ACKNOWLEDGING:

That livelihood is defined as “a means of securing the necessities of life” and accepting the fact that food security is included in these necessities,

RESOLVES:

1. To congratulate member states and the Inter-American Social Protection Network (IASPN) for their dedication to promoting the livelihood of citizens throughout the Hemisphere by seeing food security as a priority.
2. To propose the creation of a Food Surplus Oases Map to be used in collaboration with the aforementioned Food Desert Map to transport non-perishable crops from Food Oases to Food Deserts.
3. To recommend that the IASPN hold a conference in Brasília, Brazil in September of 2017 to create this map and discuss the logistics of transporting crops from the Food Oases to the Food Desert locations.

- a. To invite member states to send their Ministers of Agriculture or other equivalent officials.
 - b. To dedicate this conference to the creation of the Food Surplus Oases Map and discussing the logistics of transporting non-perishable crops.
 - c. To have this conference meet annually on a rotating basis to discuss changes with regard to the allocation of food surpluses.
4. To request funding from voluntary donations from member states, permanent observer states, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and pertinent non-governmental organizations (NGOs) such as the World Food Programme (WFP).
5. To request the General Secretariat to report to the General Assembly at its forty-eighth Regular Session in order to discuss the implementation of this resolution, the execution of which shall be subject to the availability of financial resources in the program-budget of the Organization and other resources.

GRASSROOTS EXPRESSIONS OF DIVERSITY TO PROMOTE INTEGRAL DEVELOPMENT THROUGH ART

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Honduras

Topic No. 4 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Articles 2 and 32 of The Charter of the Organization of American States (OAS), which promote economic, social, and cultural development, and arguing that facilitating the fulfillment of the individual being is key to development, and the paramount responsibility of each Member State and achieved through the means of cooperative action, as an essential purpose of the Organization;

Article 51 of the Charter of the Organization of American States, which asserts, “The Member States, with due respect for the individuality of each of them, agree to promote cultural exchange as an effective means of consolidating inter-American understanding”;

Article 30 of the Social Charter of the Americas, which states “Member States will foster participation in artistic and cultural activities where arts and culture flourish and contribute to cultural enrichment”;

RECALLING:

AG/RES. 1 (XLVII-E/14), Guidelines and Objectives of the Strategic Vision of the OAS, Forty-seventh Special Session, Washington, DC, 12 September 2014, which maintains the goal of using effective strategies and proliferation of partnerships among Member States to help to achieve their economic, social, and cultural development goals through comprehensive, inclusive, and sustainable means. Emphasizing the importance of facilitating “complementary partnership for development and linkages with the international community and other international organizations, in support of international cooperation initiatives agreed upon at the global level”;

CONSIDERING:

That the encouragement of creativity in the citizens of the Americas allows both personal growth and social development, and may lead to new and innovative approaches to problems across the hemisphere as affirmed by the Fourth Inter-American Meeting of Ministers of Culture and Highest Appropriate Authorities (2008);

That the UN Agenda for Sustainable Development for 2030 (res70/1-36), in which affirms the role of intercultural understanding, tolerance, mutual respect and a common goal of global stewardship and shared responsibility are acknowledged to play an important role in diversity. Cultures from around the world have committed to the goal of making substantial steps forward for sustainable development in many fields. This agenda marked the first time that the international development agenda referred to culture as a key part of the framework of Sustainable Development Goals in relation to “education, sustainable cities, food security, the environment, economic growth, sustainable consumption and production patterns, peaceful and inclusive societies”;

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

The Inter-American Committee on Cultures (CIC) support of “Ignite The Americas Youth Arts Policy Forum” (2005), an initiative that brought together young artists, professionals from cultural industries as well as government policy experts from across the Americas with the purpose of considering and developing new and effective strategies to exploit the power that arts and culture has in initiating and social inclusion and economic opportunities;

The United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization’s (UNESCO) proclamation of the period 2013-2022 as the International Decade for the Rapprochement of Cultures (IDRC), furthering international commitment to both cultural diversity and universal values as aides for improving and shaping development outcomes;

The Art Museum of the America’s (AMA) mission statement, which states “The AMA’s work is based on the principle that the arts are transformative for individuals and communities. This belief simultaneously serves to promote the core values of the OAS by providing a space for cultural expression, creativity, dialogue and learning, highlighting themes such as democracy, development, human rights, justice, freedom of expression, and innovation and hemispheric cultural exchange. This is achieved by showcasing cutting-edge exhibits of artists whose output creatively combine aesthetics with topical social and political issues and by establishing a dialogue of these works with AMA’s Permanent Collection”; and

ACKNOWLEDGING:

The UN “Art for Peace” contest (2012) in which 6623 works of art were submitted from young artists in over 90 countries, all bearing a message of peace, sponsored by the United Nations Office for Disarmament Affairs and the Harmony for Peace Foundation and helped unite young people around the world through their art,

RESOLVES:

1. To commend the Art Museum of the Americas (AAM) and the Secretariat of Hemispheric Affairs on their continued efforts in promoting core values of the OAS.
2. To applaud the AAM donors, specifically, The Friends of the Art Museum of the Americas, in their support and commitment to the importance of community and artist engagement throughout the Americas.
3. To direct the Inter-American Council for Integral Development and the Secretariat of Hemispheric Affairs and The Art Museum of the Americas to create a joint committee tasked with the organization and realization of an art competition that will generate grassroots expressions of diversity to promote integral development, to be named: “The Americas Diversity & Development Art Contest and Exhibition.” The committee will carry out this charge by:
 - a. Creating a timeline and budget to follow throughout the implementation of the contest.
 - b. Developing and publishing the official rules and regulations of the contest, which reflect:

IMPROVING WELLBEING THROUGH OUTDOOR RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Canada

Topic No. 2 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 47 of the OAS Charter, which states that “The Member States will give primary importance within their development plans to the encouragement of education, science, technology, and culture, oriented toward the overall improvement of the individual, and as a foundation for democracy, social justice, and progress”;

Article 31 of the OAS Charter, which states that “Inter-American cooperation for integral development is the common and joint responsibility of the Member States, within the framework of the democratic principles and the institutions of the inter-American system. It should include the economic, social, educational, cultural, scientific, and technological fields, support the achievement of national objectives of the Member States, and respect the priorities established by each country in its development plans, without political ties or conditions”;

RECALLING:

Article 2 of the Social Charter of the Americas, which states that “The member states commit to promoting and to progressively realizing the full achievement of economic, social, and cultural rights and principles, through policies and programs that they consider are the most effective and appropriate for their needs, in accordance with their democratic processes and available resources”;

RECOGNIZING:

That good sportsmanship is fundamental to a democratic culture, in which citizens and politicians play by the rules and accept their losses, and that team sports are a means of becoming a fully integrated member of the community through athletes’ learning of collaboration and team work skills;

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT:

The good work of the Inter-American Children’s Institute (Instituto Inter-Americano de Niños, IIN), which “assists the States in the development of public policies to be taken for the benefit of children and adolescents”; AND

AWARE:

Of the example set by the Mathare Youth Sports Association (MYSA) and their goals in Africa and Europe which include socioeconomic development and positive social change within the younger members of the community, as well as their achievements in improving leadership skills to support poor communities in countries such as Uganda, Tanzania and Norway,

IMPROVING THE LIVELIHOODS OF THE HEMISPHERE'S POOREST PEOPLE THROUGH IMPROVEMENTS IN WATER SANITATION

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Guyana

Topic No. 2 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

CONSIDERING:

That the Charter of the Organization of American States “establishes among its essential purposes to eradicate extreme poverty”;

RECALLING:

Article 94 in the OAS Charter regarding the purpose of the Inter-American Council for Integral Development which says that it is “to promote cooperation among the American States for the purpose of achieving integral development and, in particular, helping to eliminate extreme poverty, in accordance with the standards of the Charter, especially those set forth in Chapter VII with respect to the economic, social, educational, cultural, scientific, and technological fields.” (Article 94 c);

NOTING:

The declaration “Water to Feed the Land,” adopted by the Ministers of Agriculture of the Americas in 2013 in Argentina;

HAVING SEEN:

Article 3 of the Social Charter of the OAS that encourages Member States to strengthen policies and programs that offer opportunities for their peoples to benefit from sustainable development;

RECALLING AS WELL:

That the strategic areas of action of the Inter-American Program for Sustainable Development (2006-2009) (PIDS) include the topic of water resources;

BEARING IN MIND:

That the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) states that “around 1.2 billion people, or almost one-fifth of the world’s population, live in areas of physical water scarcity, and 500 million people are approaching this situation”;

UNDERSCORING:

The importance of the countries of the Hemisphere taking steps to promote education, awareness, and broader participation by the different sectors of society in the conservation and sustainable use of water resources;

RECALLING:

That Article 14 in the Inter-American Democratic Charter states that “Member states agree to review periodically the actions adopted and carried out by the Organization to promote dialogue, cooperation for integral development, and the fight against poverty in the Hemisphere, and to take the appropriate measures to further these objectives”;

RECOGNIZING:

The challenges and serious consequences of limited access to sanitation water for our countries, particularly in the poorest and most vulnerable sectors, and that the protection, preservation, and restoration of the environment and its proper stewardship are indispensable for progress toward integral development.

RESOLVES:

- 1) To recognize the work of the Integrated Water Resources Management Section (IWRM) in supporting Member States’ efforts to improve management, conservation, and sustainable use of groundwater resources.
- 2) To promote the implementation of public policies, practices, and technologies to strengthen national capacities for proper integrated management of water resources. Thus, we reaffirm our commitment to the declaration “Water to Feed the Land,” adopted by the Ministers of Agriculture of the Americas in 2013.
- 3) To serve as a regional forum to:
 - a) Support initiatives in full collaboration with the Pan-American Health Organization to integrate actions related to providing good quality water and sanitation for the population by asking the Member States to send executive reports on the strategies they develop concerning water management so that those reports may be posted on the OAS website and thus shared to disseminate best practices.
 - b) Support and promote special meetings such as World Water Forums, scheduled for 2018 in Brazil and the Inter-American Dialogue on Water Management at the hemispheric level, as well as sub regional meetings to facilitate discussion among water authorities and the society concerned with water management by asking Members States and Observer Countries to locate funds to allow representatives from poorer countries to participate in those meetings.
- 4) To collaborate with NGOs across the Hemisphere, such as organizations like Water Mission International, in order to share information and implement technologies and practices more efficiently and effectively.

IMPROVING THE LIVELIHOOD OF THE POOREST 20% BY PROMOTING THE EQUAL PROTECTION OF WORKERS' RIGHTS

Third Committee
Draft Resolution Presented by the Delegation of Costa Rica

Topic No. 2 of the Agenda

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

HAVING SEEN:

Article 30 of the Charter of the Organization of the American States (OAS) which establishes that “The Member States, inspired by the principles of inter-American solidarity and cooperation, pledge themselves to a united effort to ensure international social justice in their relations and integral development for their peoples, as conditions essential to peace and security, integral development encompasses the economic, social, educational, cultural, scientific, and technological fields through which the goals that each country sets for accomplishing it should be achieved”;

Article 34(g) of the OAS Charter which establishes the member states’ agreement to “devote their utmost efforts” to fulfill basic goals such as “Fair wages, employment opportunities, and acceptable working conditions for all” in order to achieve “equality of opportunity, the elimination of extreme poverty, equitable distribution of wealth and income and the full participation of their peoples in decisions relating to their own development”;

NOTING:

Article 45(b) of the OAS Charter which asserts that “Work is a right and a social duty, it gives dignity to the one who performs it, and it should be performed under conditions, including a system of fair wages, that ensure life, health, and a decent standard of living for the worker and his family, both during his working years and in his old age, or when any circumstance deprives him of the possibility of working”;

Article 45(c) of the OAS Charter which states that “Employers and workers, both rural and urban, have the right to associate themselves freely for the defense and promotion of their interests, including the right to collective bargaining and the workers' right to strike, and recognition of the juridical personality of associations and the protection of their freedom and independence, all in accordance with applicable laws”;

RECALLING:

Article 46 of the OAS Charter which recognizes that “In order to facilitate the process of Latin American regional integration, it is necessary to harmonize the social legislation of the developing countries, especially in the labor and social security fields, so that the rights of the workers shall be equally protected, and they agree to make the greatest efforts possible to achieve this goal”;

CONSIDERING:

Those workers represented by labor unions are more likely to see an increase in wages, benefit from the growth of the nation’s economy and experience better working conditions than workers who lack representation;

That there is a big gap between having written laws in place to protect the labor force, guarantee freedom of association and collective bargaining and implementing them in practice;

That typically farm and migrant workers, who are the backbone of the economy for most member countries, make less than minimum wage and have low quality of life due to, among other reasons, lack of an efficient collective bargaining unit with leaders directly representing such communities and lack of full protection from the existing labor laws;

That the majority of the employees that are represented by legitimate labor unions are employed in the public sector not because of disinterest of public sector employees to form unions but because of the continuous bashing of such activities by corporations through intimidation, forced layoffs, and the creation of alternate worker groups such as the Solidarista Associations, which benefit the corporations more than they do the workers;

RECOGNIZING:

The efforts of the Inter-American Conference of the Ministries of Labor (IACML), its two advisory bodies: the Trade Union Technical Advisory Council (COSATE) and the Business Technical Advisory Committee on Labor Matters (CEATAL) and its two working groups in promoting partnership amongst member states to fight against child labor and forced labor practices of any kind, strengthen the protection of workers' rights and promote cooperation and productivity with social inclusion;

EMPHASIZING:

Article 45(g) of the OAS Charter that recognizes "the importance of the contribution of organizations such as labor unions, cooperatives, and cultural, professional, business, neighborhood, and community associations to the life of the society and to the development process;" and

AFFIRMING:

That workers' rights are human rights,

RESOLVES:

1. To suggest that the Inter-American Council for Integral Development formulate a set of labor standards to equally protect and advance employee rights so as to strengthen the implementation of existing labor laws that protect workers' rights, such as collective bargaining and freedom of association, and push for the expansion of such laws.
2. To urge institutional strengthening for the protection of workers' and employer's rights and promote cooperation of the Inter- American Conference of the Ministries of Labor to add to its agenda and discuss the status of member states in the implementation of the set of labor standards set forth by the Inter-American Council for Integral Development and highlight weakness, strengths and areas of cooperation during the regularly scheduled meetings of the working group.
3. To call upon the Inter-American Conference of the Ministries of Labor to form a working group to investigate the practices of alternate worker groups to legitimate unions such as Solidarista Associations to determine whether or not workers are adequately and fairly represented.
4. To ask member states to expand existing labor laws to protect workers in the private sector from all forms of threats against unionizing from corporations.
